Outstanding American

Washington, Pa., April 6 (AP)—Wendell Willkie was called "an outstanding and patriotic American" by Governor Edward Martin.

The Governor, at his home here, last night had been asked for comment on Willkie's withdrawal as a Republican Presidential candidate.

Martin, who is a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention and is expected to receive Pennsylvania's votes on the first ballot as a favorite son, continued:

"His pleasing and dynamic personality has won him a host of friends not only in America but throughout the world. He has made a real contribution to a full and energetic discussion of the issues confronting the American people in this crisis. COUNTYMAN HELD AS "WITNESS" IN MYSTERY DEATH

The mystery surrounding the death of Harry Francis Wetzel, Fairfield R. D., 40-year-old laborer and father of nine children, who was found dead in the middle of the Zora-Emmitsburg road in Liberty township November 28, 1942, may be near solution, according to developments in the case today.

Wetzel's lifeless body was found about 8:30 p. m. Saturday, November 28, 1942, by Pvt. Philip A. Powell, who was enroute with two young women from Rhode Island to his home at Johnstown. He called police who learned that Wetzel had left a roadside stand owned by John Kessler, about a half mile east of the point where he was found, a half hour before Pvt. Powell discovered the body.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, who investigated, said at that time that a depressed fracture of the man's forehead and another fracture at the base of the skull caused death. The man apparently was uninjured otherwise and his clothes did not indicate he had been dragged or rolled along the road.

Hit-Run Victim?

Doctor Crist and Prys. John M. Micka and R. W. Wagner, of the local state police who investigated, said they believed Wetzel was the victim of a hit-and-run driver while allowing the possibility that Wetzel was the victim of foul play.

Sometime ago the state police filed a warrant before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore charging "one John Doe with unlawfully killing one Harry Wetzel."

Monday the state police took into custody Calvin Claggett, Fairfield R. D., and are holding him as a material witness to the Wetzel death, District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., said today.

Claggett, through his attorney, Richard A. Brown, Esq., today filed for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging to the county court, "That your petitioner is unjustly confined to the Adams county jail for criminal or supposed criminal matter."

Hearing on Friday

The court granted the writ and set Friday at 10 a. m. for a hearing in the judicial chambers on the matter. Attorney Brown said today that the writ had been asked in order to determine the nature of the charges against Claggett.

In making the investigation at the time of the death state police found particles of glass on the highway 200 feet east of the point where the body was found. They said then they believed that he was walking towards his home when he was struck by the protruding corner of a truck body.

Wetzel, who was a member of the Church of God and lived all his life in the Fairfield section was survived by his widow, the former Mary V. Turner, and nine children, Mrs. Wm. Fox, Fairfield R. D., Harry, Richard, Margaret, John, Goldie, Mabel, Stanley and Ralph, all at home, at that time.

Roy C. Wolf was named assessor for Cumberland township at the regular meeting of the Adams county commissioners Wednesday at the court house.

Wolf succeeds John S. Null, who resigned the post, and was named to fill Null's unexpired term. The appointment of Wolf fills the ranks of assessors in the county. One more vacancy to be filled by the commissioners is that of tax collector in Berwick township.

The commissioners, Wednesday inspected the repairs to the Latimore township election house where the entire building has been raised 16 inches and placed on concrete blocks. A new floor and new door were installed in the building.

The monthly report of the registrar and recorder's office was presented to the commissioners for the month of March. It shows 203 deeds and writs, 50 mortgages, five transfers, 71 satisfactions, 16 estates, three credits and 26 soldiers discharges were filed at the recorder's office during the month.

Today the commissioners were meeting as the county institution district board at the county home in Cumberland township.

SEMINARY GRAD RECEIVES CALL

The Rev. Wouter Van Garrett, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church, Norwood, and president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary Alumni association, has been extended a unanimous call to become pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church at Frederick, it was learned here today.

It is anticipated that the Rev. Mr. Garrett will go to Frederick to begin his new pastorate around May 1, if the call is accepted. The pastorate has been vacant since the Rev. Dr. Amos J. Traver left November 1 to become a member of the faculty of Hamma Divinity school at Wittenberg college, Springfield, O.

The Rev. C. William Sprengel is the assistant pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Garrett is a graduate of Gettysburg academy, Gettysburg college and the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary.

TO ADD NAMES TO HONOR ROLL IN SQUARE HERE

The number of names on the Adams county Honor Roll on the center square will be increased to approximately 3,000 by May 30, it was indicated today.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham, chairman of the committee in charge of the honor roll, in announcing that a meeting of the committee will be held in the near future, said that 425 name plates have been or are scheduled to be completed sometime prior to Memorial Day. They will be installed a short time before the end of May.

Because of the cold weather, no names were added during the winter to the original 2,600 on the roll when it was dedicated November 11, 1943. Some of the names to be added will be replacements for names already on the board in cases where the name plates are cracked or where the names are misspelled.

Will Add Gold Stars

Present plans are for names to be added monthly after May during the warm weather months when it will be possible to open the honor roll without danger either to the roll or to the men engaged in installing the nameplates.

The committee today asked the next of kin of all county men who have died in service to contact the committee so that stars may be added to the names of the men indicating that they have made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Seek Complete Lists

The names of all of the men inducted into the armed forces from both the county draft boards since last November are in the hands of the committee and name plates are being made, it was stated, but the committee asked that next of kin of county men who have enlisted in the services other than through the local draft boards notify the committee of that fact if they have not done so already. While usually the names of the enlisted men are sent to the local draft boards and then turned over to the committee the custom does not hold true in some instances.

The committee also asked persons notifying it of the enlistment of men or women into the service to include with the name of the individual his home address in Adams county. A few names have been turned in to the county committee. It was stated in which no record was given as to the man's home address and it is not known whether he is an Adams countian or not.

"Ag" Teachers Hear Talk On Cooperatives

A discussion on "cooperatives" by vocational agriculture teachers of Adams county followed a talk on that topic by Dr. Robert A. Bream, the assistant county superintendent of schools, at the April meeting of the "ag" teachers which was held Wednesday evening at New Oxford.

Doctor Bream discussed the history of the cooperative movement and the principles upon which it is founded, contrasting it with private enterprise. In the discussion period it was pointed out that county members of the Future Farmers of America already are using cooperative practices in their seed selling and hog breeding programs. Possible improvements in the teaching of cooperative enterprise were considered.

The agriculture teachers will meet next in East Berlin on May 5.

County home economics teachers met in New Oxford at the same hour with Miss Margaret Brant, county adviser.

Here And There
News Collected At Random

Most of Gettysburg's stores will be closed for three hours on Good Friday from noon until three o'clock to memorialize the anniversary of the Crucifixion of Christ. The three-hour period represents the three hours that Christ spent on the Cross. It is the highlight day of the 40-day Lenten season which is climaxed with the celebration of the anniversary of the Resurrection of Christ on Easter. The business office of The Gettysburg Times will be closed during the three-hour period, Friday.

All offices in the county court house will be closed all day Good Friday.

"I have just received my Thursday's edition of The Gettysburg Times. The first thing my eyes fell upon was the article 'Have a Heart.' Although I am in the service I felt it was my duty to add my bit to the (Red Cross) fund. It will be a little late but I'm sure it will help just as much. So I am enclosing $3 with this short letter and hope that it will help some fellow-soldier who is not lucky enough to still be in good old America. Very Sincerely, Pvt. Harold L. Ecker, Fort Belvoir, Va."

The above communication thrilled the hearts of the Red Cross headquarters staff when it was received this morning. It is typical of many similar letters from our men and women in service who appreciate the efforts of the Red Cross.

Adams county is lagging in its salvage of waste paper, and Uncle Sam is making more and stronger appeals to all of us to help him out. He needs waste paper . . . and every piece he can get. Paper is used for a hundred and one purposes in the war effort and it is wasteful not to save waste paper. Don't throw even the smallest piece away. Don't burn any of it. Save every bit!

Three hundred trained merchandising experts from the sales staffs of the National Biscuit company and the Quaker Oats company in Pennsylvania have been loaned to the state salvage committee to work on paper salvage under the direction of salvage chairmen in each county and each community. They'll probably have some new ideas . . . but the most important thing to do is save every piece of waste paper. Dig around your house and salvage every ounce of paper you can. Tie it in bundles or put it in containers and the firemen will collect it at regular intervals.

And while you are at it be sure to save your household fats. That's another important "win-the-war" contribution. Remember you get ration points for food for every pound of household fats you save.

Invasion Date Has Been Set

With the United States Army Somewhere in Britain, April 6 (AP)—"D" day has been set.

The Allied western invasion timetable has been worked out to the minutest detail.

Only a few high-ranking officers know the date, however, and only a few will know it beforehand.

But topflight commanders in talks with their officers and men are being amazingly frank in some respects—even to the extent of telling the troops the job cut out for them.

Among American troops who will participate in the initial assault on Adolf Hitler's fortress a growing tenseness can be noticed.

In their barracks the soldiers talk among themselves but there is tremendous security consciousness among them when they are outside camp.

RECITAL BEFORE SERVICE FRIDAY

A half-hour organ recital of sacred music will precede the community union Good Friday afternoon service in the Presbyterian church. The recital by Mrs. S. F. Snyder, church organist, will begin at 1:30 o'clock. The service will start at 2 p. m.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Dr. A. W. Bloomfield, stated clerk of the Cleveland Presbytery. The theme of his sermon will be "The Cross Leads." The Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the local church, will conduct the service and the Rev. R. M. Everette of the A.M.E. Zion church will read the scripture and offer prayer.

Selections to be presented at the recital will be: "Solemn Prelude," Chauvet; "Fairest Lord Jesus," by Edmundson; "Choral Prelude in Fugue," Brahms; "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach; "Vespers at Solemnities," Martin, and "Ave Maria," Schubert.

The guest soloist for the service will be A-S William S. Cryer of the 55th College Training Detachment. He will sing "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?"

LT. DEARDORFF IS GRADUATED

First Lieutenant John E. Deardorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Deardorff, 440 Carlisle street, was among a class of officers graduated today from the Medical Field Service school at the Carlisle Barracks. He is now qualified for field duty with troops.

Brigadier General Addison D. Davis, commandant at the Carlisle Barracks, spoke to the officers, telling them of the importance and seriousness of the work that lies ahead of them in the dual role they will have to play as physicians and army officers. Music for the graduation exercises was furnished by the post band.

Lt. Deardorff received his M.D. degree from Jefferson Medical college and interned at the WilliamSPORT hospital.

Lt. Deardorff's wife and father and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Caulfield, Philadelphia, his father- and mother-in-law, were in Carlisle for the graduation exercises.

Confirm Class Of 12 At East Berlin

The Rev. Snyder Allemen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin, confirmed a class of twelve boys and girls on Palm Sunday at the church. They were: Horace Baker, Donald Mickle, Donald R. Moul, Stewart Wrights, Nadine Baker, Evelyn Eisenhart, Erma Jean Leib, Nancy J. Morris, Peggy Ann Moul, Louise Jacobs, Elaine Joyce Hoover and Helena Young.

Easter Dawn service will take place at the church Sunday morning at 6:30, and will be open to the public. Mrs. Verne V. Brandt, Mrs. Floyd Hoffman, Mrs. Robert S. Lau and Miss Mae Bender Wolf are in charge of arrangements.

BANKS CLOSED FRIDAY

All banks will be closed tomorrow in observance of Good Friday.

Face New Hazards

Even if the trapped Germans and Rumanians succeed in reaching Ovidopol, they must still make the hazardous trip by terry to Akkerman and thence by a winding single-track railway to Rumania.

Malinovsky's cavalry and tanks had cut off the main escape route to Rumania by capturing Razdelnaya, 38 miles northwest of Odessa, and then pressing southwestward to take Strassburg, which commands a side road from Odessa to Tiraspol on the lower Dniester river.

If previous German practice has been followed commanders of the Axis forces in the Odessa area probably have already deserted their men and equipment and have been taken out by ship and plane.

Four Red Army pushes are being aimed at the heart of Odessa, but the units which are closest to the city appear to be advancing down the banks of Lake Kulainitski from the captured rail station of Kurbanka, 14 miles away.

A Red Star dispatch reported that "big forces" of Germans are tied up in the direction of Odessa and that "violent fighting" is raging on the approaches to the city.

Northwest of Odessa, where the Russians have encircled German and Rumanian groups in the Skala area and in the city of Tarnopol, the merciless battle for their extermination has reached new fury with the end of the blizzard which has been sweeping southern Russia for three days and nights.

A dispatch from Major Mikhail Mikhailov to Red Star said the Germans lost 1,000 dead and 20 tanks in their first big attempt to break out of the Skala trap to the west and north yesterday, and a second effort cost them even more dead.

Down 11 Transports

The Russians were said to be seizing one street after another in Tarnopol, killing a large number of Germans, while others threw down their arms.

At Skala, Junkers transport planes were reported making numerous trips in attempts to evacuate Nazi troops in that sector west of Kamenets Podolsk. Mikhailov's dispatch said, and 11 of them have been shot down within the past 24 hours.

HOLY WEEK AT TRINITY CHURCH

Holy Week services will begin at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church this evening 7:30 o'clock. The theme of Maundy Thursday "The Institution of the Lord's Supper, the Agony in the Garden and the Trials of Jesus" will be rehearsed in scripture and hymn.

Special music will be rendered by the senior choir at the offertory.

Preparatory service for the Easter celebration of the Holy Communion will be held Good Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock with the reception of new members. The senior choir will sing "Calvary" and "Go! So Loved the World." The sermon theme will be the "Terrible Beauty of the Cross."

Holy Communion will be celebrated Easter morning at 7:45 o'clock and again at 10:30 a. m. At the first celebration the junior choir of 24 voices will sing "Easter Praises." At the second celebration the senior choir will sing "Hosanna" and "As It Began to Dawn." The class of catechumens will receive their first communion at this service. The church school festival program will be rendered at 9:30 a. m. Holy baptism will be administered at 4 p. m.

The senior choir will render the Easter cantata at vesper services at 7 p. m.

For this festival day the altar will be decorated with Easter lilies and palms.

The number of names on the Adams county Honor Roll on the center square will be increased to approximately 3,000 by May 30, it was indicated today.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham, chairman of the committee in charge of the honor roll, in announcing that a meeting of the committee will be held in the near future, said that 425 name plates have been or are scheduled to be completed sometime prior to Memorial Day. They will be installed a short time before the end of May.

Because of the cold weather, no names were added during the winter to the original 2,600 on the roll when it was dedicated November 11, 1943. Some of the names to be added will be replacements for names already on the board in cases where the name plates are cracked or where the names are misspelled.

Will Add Gold Stars

Present plans are for names to be added monthly after May during the warm weather months when it will be possible to open the honor roll without danger either to the roll or to the men engaged in installing the nameplates.

The committee today asked the next of kin of all county men who have died in service to contact the committee so that stars may be added to the names of the men indicating that they have made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Seek Complete Lists

The names of all of the men inducted into the armed forces from both the county draft boards since last November are in the hands of the committee and name plates are being made, it was stated, but the committee asked that next of kin of county men who have enlisted in the services other than through the local draft boards notify the committee of that fact if they have not done so already. While usually the names of the enlisted men are sent to the local draft boards and then turned over to the committee the custom does not hold true in some instances.

The committee also asked persons notifying it of the enlistment of men or women into the service to include with the name of the individual his home address in Adams county. A few names have been turned in to the county committee, it was stated in which no record was given as to the man's home address and it is not known whether he is an Adams countian or not.

Russian Troops In Outskirts Of City Of Odessa

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, April 6 (AP)—Russian storm troops pushed into the outlying suburbs of Odessa today and the roar of battle echoed throughout the city.

Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's cavalry and light tanks drove on the great Black sea port from three directions, front line dispatches said, advancing from positions which last night were only nine miles from the heart of the metropolis.

The right flank of Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army pushed through the quagmires west of the city heading for the Odessa-Ovidopol spur railway—the last remaining escape route to Rumania for the defenders of Odessa, the dispatches added.

Face New Hazards

Even if the trapped Germans and Rumanians succeed in reaching Ovidopol, they must still make the hazardous trip by ferry to Akkerman and thence by a winding single-track railway to Rumania.

Malinovsky's cavalry and tanks had cut off the main escape route to Rumania by capturing Razdelnaya, 38 miles northwest of Odessa, and then pressing southwestward to take Strassburg, which commands a side road from Odessa to Tiraspol on the lower Dniester river.

If previous German practice has been followed commanders of the Axis forces in the Odessa area probably have already deserted their men and equipment and have been taken out by ship and plane.

Four Red Army pushes are being aimed at the heart of Odessa, but the units which are closest to the city appear to be advancing down the banks of Lake Kuialnitski from the captured rail station of Kubanka, 14 miles away.

A Red Star dispatch reported that "big forces of Germans are tied up in the direction of Odessa and that 'violent fighting' is raging on the approaches to the city.

Northwest of Odessa, where the Russians have encircled German and Rumanian groups in the Skala area and in the city of Tarnopol, the merciless battle for their extermination has reached new fury with the end of the blizzard which has been sweeping southern Russia for three days and nights.

A dispatch from Major Mikhail Mikhailov to Red Star said the Germans lost 1,000 dead and 20 tanks in their first big attempt to break out of the Skala trap to the west and north yesterday, and a second effort cost them even more dead.

Down 11 Transports

The Russians were said to be seizing one street after another in Tarnopol, killing a large number of Germans, while others threw down their arms.

At Skala, Junkers transport planes were reported making numerous trips in attempts to evacuate Nazis trapped in that sector west of Kamennets Podolsk. Mikhailov's dispatch said, and 11 of them have been shot down within the past 24 hours.

News Collected At Random

Most of Gettysburg's stores will be closed for three hours on Good Friday from noon until three o'clock to memorialize the anniversary of the Crucifixion of Christ. The three-hour period represents the three hours that Christ spent on the Cross. It is the highlight day of the 40-day Lenten season which is climaxed with the celebration of the anniversary of the Resurrection of Christ on Easter. The business office of The Gettysburg Times will be closed during the three-hour period, Friday.

All offices in the county court house will be closed all day Good Friday.

"I have just received my Thursday's edition of The Gettysburg Times. The first thing my eyes fell upon was the article 'Have a Heart.' Although I am in the service I felt it was my duty to add my bit to the (Red Cross) fund. It will be a little late but I'm sure it will help just as much. So I am enclosing $3 with this short letter and hope that it will help some fellow-soldier who is not lucky enough to still be in good old America. Very Sincerely, Pvt. Harold L. Ecker, Fort Belvoir, Va."

The above communication thrilled the hearts of the Red Cross headquarters staff when it was received this morning. It is typical of many similar letters from our men and women in service who appreciate the efforts of the Red Cross.

Adams county is lagging in its salvage of waste paper and Uncle Sam is making more and stronger appeals to all of us to help him out. He needs waste paper . . . and every piece he can get. Paper is used for a hundred and one purposes in the war effort and it is wasteful not to save waste paper. Don't throw even the smallest piece away. Don't burn any of it. Save every bit!

Three hundred trained merchandising experts from the sales staffs of the National Biscuit company and the Quaker Oats company in Pennsylvania have been loaned to the state salvage committee to work on paper salvage under the direction of salvage chairman in each county and each community. They'll probably have some new ideas . . . but the most important thing to do is save every piece of waste paper. Dig around your house and salvage every ounce of paper you can. Tie it in bundles or put it in containers and the firemen will collect it at regular intervals.

And while you are at it be sure to save your household fats. That's another important "win-the-war" contribution. Remember you get ration points for food for every pound of household fats you save.

Invasion Date Has Been Set

With the United States Army Somewhere in Britain, April 6 (AP)—"D" day has been set.

The Allied western invasion timetable has been worked out to the minutest detail.

Only a few high-ranking officers know the date, however, and only a few will know it beforehand.

But topflight commanders in talks with their officers and men are being amazingly frank in some respects—even to the extent of telling the troops the job cut out for them.

Among American troops who will participate in the initial assault on Adolf Hitler's fortress a growing tenseness can be noticed.

In their barracks the soldiers talk among themselves but there is tremendous security consciousness among them when they are outside camp.

QUALIFICATIONS OF EDEN MAY GET REAL TEST SOON

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

If Anthony Eden resigns the British foreign secretaryship in order to devote his whole time to government leadership in the House of Commons, as is reported to be scheduled, it will put squarely to the test his qualifications as possible successor to the great Churchill as Prime Minister.

That will be the significance of the move if it eventuates. Many British prophets feel that Churchill's historic task of leading his people through the valley of "blood, toil, tears and sweat," from defeat to glorious victory, is drawing to a close. He and the chiefs of the Conservative party are said to feel that the comparatively youthful Eden—he is 46—is the man to shoulder the burden, and they're going to put him through the mill to find out.

Great Changes Coming

One important side-light is that if and when Eden takes the helm it will at long last bring the so-called "young Conservatives" into power after many decades of battling with their elders for a place in the sun. Churchill belongs to the old guard. So did a long string of predecessors.

Maybe it's wrong to call that a side-light. England, like the rest of the world, is on the verge of great changes, and coupled with those will be the post-war problems of reconstruction. It certainly is a period when political adaptability and correct perspective will be at a premium.

Already Commons Leader

So far as foreign affairs are concerned, there's no reason to anticipate any material change. The Foreign Minister doesn't lay down Britain's policy in any event. He may propose some of it, but the Prime Minister is the last word, and what he says goes.

Many London observers think Lork Cranborne, Secretary of State for dominion affairs, will become foreign secretary if Eden quits the post. That fits the picture well enough, for Eden and Cranborne are great friends and think alike on foreign policies. Cranborne followed Eden out into the political wilderness in 1938 when the latter resigned as foreign minister because he couldn't stand Premier Chamberlain's policy of appeasement towards Hitler.

Eden of course already is government leader in Commons, but his foreign office duties require so much time that he hasn't been working very hard at his other job. Regular leadership in Commons would put him on a hot spot, where he would either make or break himself in short order. It's one of the toughest assignments in British politics. It calls not only for the inspiring qualities necessary for leadership, but for supreme tact.

Challenging Churchill

It's an interesting commentary that Churchill, whom England has followed through hell and high water in the war emergency, is himself too much of an individualist to be a successful government leader in Commons in normal times. He's by nature a lone wolf, and but for that fact could have been Prime Minister a score of years ago. His colleagues always admired his genius, but writhed under the caustic tongue with which he liked to lash them.

Eden should make a good leader. He inspires confidence, has a pleasing personality, and is possessed of considerable tact, which may be an acquired quality. Anyway, he needs the experience in domestic affairs.

COAL USERS TO FILE ESTIMATES

Residents of Gettysburg who wish to purchase anthracite coal or eastern coke must fill out a consumer's declaration outlining the amount of fuel they believe they will use from April 1, 1944, to March 31, 1945 before the coal can be delivered to them, it was stated today.

Besides listing the amount of coal estimated as needed for the year, the consumer must list the amount of coal he has on hand and when he files the declaration with a dealer he must state that he has no outstanding order or declaration with another dealer or, if he does he must list the dealer and tonnage ordered. He must also list the types of heating equipment on the premises for which he is purchasing the coal and promise to "keep my heating equipment in good order and conserve all solid fuels so far as possible."

The declarations are obtained from and filed with the dealer and are necessary it was stated because wartime demands for anthracite limit civilian supply. Of the anthracite mined, it was said 1,250,000 tons are replacing wood; 2,500,000 tons are replacing coke, 1,250,000 tons are replacing oil, 1,250,000 tons are needed by the Army, Navy and Coast Guard and 750,000 tons are needed for increased war-worker populations.

Enough Ham And Plenty Of Eggs In Sight For Easter

Chicago, April 6 (AP)—Housewives should not have much difficulty in finding a ham for the meat item on the traditional Easter meal and eggs are so plentiful that the poultry trade hopes the custom of coloring them for children will experience a war-time Easter boom.

This was the cheerful news available for consumers today from the meat packing and poultry industries. However, it was not so cheerful for farmers, as they were selling hogs and eggs at prices far below those which prevailed a year ago.

A heavy run of hogs, largest in history for this time of year, has built up the supply of hams as well as other pork products. Hogs have come off the nation's farms in unprecedented numbers since last autumn, at times forcing embargoes on future shipments.

The War Food Administration yesterday launched a plan to establish a floor for ungraded, current receipt eggs. Marvin Jones, WFA administrator, said the solution for the over-supply was for the civilian population to "eat one more egg per week, per person."

ALLIED TROOPS KILLED BY ERROR IN CASSINO AREA

Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 6 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker disclosed today that a number of Allied soldiers had been killed by bombs which accidentally fell far from the target during the great Allied air assault on Cassino March 15.

This disclosure by the commander of the Allied Mediterranean Air Forces came during a press conference in which he discussed many aspects of the bombing and declared that while the operation had failed to break German resistance it had "accomplished all that was expected of it by the air force commanders."

Eaker indicated his belief that the outcome should not be construed as a reflection on the potentialities of aerial bombardment, declaring frankly that air power has its recognized limitations and it was not to be expected that such an attack could wipe out all resistance.

Mistake In Target

Some of the bombs which missed the target at Cassino fell wide of their mark because of a "mechanical failure," he said, investigation showing that "the bombs had become dislodged from their racks and when the bomb doors were opened they became free."

Others which dropped at Venafro, far behind the front, killing a number of Allied troops, were the result of a mistake in target identification, Eaker added.

In discussing various aspects of the bombing he emphasized that his remarks should not be considered as a criticism of the ground forces or their commanders.

Could Not Be Complete

"The Cassino operation was laid on by the Air Forces at the request of the Army in an effort to destroy the roadblock and stronghold which prevented the ground forces from getting through this terrain feature," Eaker said.

"Air Force commanders advised the ground force commanders of the destruction which could reasonably be expected from such a bombardment and that the obstruction would not be completely devastated nor could the air attack be expected to dislodge all enemy opposition."

"The bombing of Cassino accomplished all that was expected of it by the Air Force commanders in view of the forces involved, the state of their training and the time during which those forces operated."

He added that the accuracy of the bombing at Cassino was about the same as against German industrial targets.

Underground Shelters

In his opinion, Eaker remarked, accuracy of the bombing had little effect on the general over-all result.

"Over a long and more sustained period a greater degree of devastation could have been caused in Cassino," he said, "but it probably would have had little bearing on the final result. The enemy forces in their cellars, deep dugouts and underground passages would not have been affected."

Eaker likened Cassino to places in the first World War which received such heavy shell-fire that they seemed to be wholly destroyed, yet when attacked by ground forces suddenly became alive with enemy troops concealed well below the surface and unaffected by the shelling.

Admits Limitations

The air chief admitted frankly that air power has its limitations. He pointed out the case of an admiral who recently acknowledged that supplies could not be landed on the Anzio beachhead under certain wind and tide conditions.

"This was accepted as a well-known limitation for naval forces," Eaker said. "Some surprise was expressed, however, when the air forces could not operate under certain conditions of winds blowing across their landing strips, or under certain conditions of clouds and visibility."

TROUBLE, TROUBLE, TROUBLE

Trouble came not double but triple for William Messenger, near Littlestown, last Saturday. When Mr. Messenger went to the mail to his home along the Littlestown-Baltimore highway to get the mail, he found that the post supporting the box was broken. While he was attempting to make repairs, the mail box fell, striking him and breaking a rib. While the rib was being taped he suffered a heart attack. Mr. Messenger was reported somewhat improved today.

WLB APPROVES WAGE DECISION

Washington, April 6 (AP)—The War Labor Board has approved in principle a wage agreement between Pennsylvania anthracite operators and the United Mine Workers.

A formal vote, probably unanimous, is expected in a day or two. Industry members' assent hinges upon acceptance of a statement of justification now being prepared by public members.

Withdrawal of government control over the mines probably would follow the approval.

In general, wage provisions of the agreement are unchanged from those now in effect under the Ickes-Lewis agreement of last November 3. Some of the WLB members previously have felt that they could not approve an extra payment of 37.3 cents daily to tonnage workers as provided under the Secretary Ickes-President Lewis plan.

Their objection, it is understood, has been overcome with the explanation that the miners have lost a comparable amount under other provisions and there actually is no violation of the spirit of the stabilization program.

TO DRAFT MINERS

Washington, April 6 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today that he had little hope that any coal miners under 26 will be deferred from the draft and forecast that it will mean more restrictions on the use of coal next winter.

Chiusi, central Italian town now reported to be the German army communications center, is underlaid with a labyrinth of passages dating from pre-Roman days.

Urges Byrd, Farley Ticket For Democrats

Washington, April 6 (AP)—Expressing doubt that President Roosevelt would seek a fourth-term, Senator Bailey (D-N. C.) today proposed a Byrd-Farley ticket for the Democrats.

Said Bailey: "I seriously question whether President Roosevelt will seek a fourth term. I think most of the delegates probably will be for him, but I question whether he will run."

He suggested Senator Byrd (D-Va.) and James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman, "would make a fine ticket and the Democrats could win with them."

In announcing his support of Byrd in an interview, he added, "I'm not drafting 'anybody—I'm nominating somebody."

QUALIFICATIONS OF EDEN MAY GET REAL TEST SOON

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
If Anthony Eden resigns the British foreign secretaryship in order to devote his whole time to government leadership in the House of Commons, as is reported to be scheduled, it will put squarely to the test his qualifications as possible successor to the great Churchill as Prime Minister.
That will be the significance of the move if it eventuates. Many British prophets feel that Churchill's historic task of leading his people through the valley of "blood, toil, tears and sweat," from defeat to glorious victory, is drawing to a close. He and the chiefs of the Conservative party are said to feel that the comparatively youthful Eden—he is 46—is the man to shoulder the burden, and they're going to put him through the mill to find out.
Great Changes Coming
One important side-light is that if and when Eden takes the helm it will at long last bring the so-called "young Conservatives" into power after many decades of battling with their elders for a place in the sun. Churchill belongs to the old guard. So did a long string of predecessors.
Maybe it's wrong to call that a side-light. England, like the rest of the world, is on the verge of great changes, and coupled with those will be the post-war problems of reconstruction. It certainly is a period when political adaptability and correct perspective will be at a premium.
Already Commons Leader
So far as foreign affairs are concerned, there's no reason to anticipate any material change. The Foreign Minister doesn't lay down Britain's policy in any event. He may propose some of it, but the Prime Minister is the last word, and what he says goes.
Many London observers think Lork Cranborne, Secretary of State for dominion affairs, will become foreign secretary if Eden quits the post. That fits the picture well enough, for Eden and Cranborne are great friends and think alike on foreign policies. Cranborne followed Eden out into the political wilderness in 1938 when the latter resigned as foreign minister because he couldn't stand Premier Chamberlain's policy of appeasement towards Hitler.
Eden of course already is government leader in Commons, but his foreign office duties require so much time that he hasn't been working very hard at his other job. Regular leadership in Commons would put him on a hot spot, where he would either make or break himself in short order. It's one of the toughest assignments in British politics. It calls not only for the inspiring qualities necessary for leadership, but for supreme tact.
Challenging Churchill
It's an interesting commentary that Churchill, whom England has followed through hell and high water in the war emergency, is himself too much of an individualist to be a successful government leader in Commons in normal times. He's by nature a lone wolf, and but for that fact could have been Prime Minister a score of years ago. His colleagues always admired his genius, but writhed under the caustic tongue with which he liked to lash them.
Eden should make a good leader. He inspires confidence, has a pleasing personality, and is possessed of considerable tact, which may be an acquired quality. Anyway, he needs the experience in domestic affairs.

Willkie Quits

publicly in any of the 276 convention delegate selections made.
While Dewey was on all counts top man in the party as of today, the question of what Willkie might do held the intense interest of republican politicians, who speculated on these possible developments:
1. Willkie might plump for a republican with liberal international views such as Stassen, thus giving that candidate's chances a boost.
2. He might return to the democratic party, which he quit before 1940—might even support a fourth term for President Roosevelt in preference to aiding a republican who did not see eye to eye with him on foreign affairs. (There was some conjecture that Willkie might be invited to share the ticket with the president.)
3. He might head a new "bull Moose" liberal movement away from the old line republican party.
Explains Position
4. Or, he might go along with the GOP nominee, whoever that may be, continuing his appeals for a "one world" program to preserve future peace, a peace he thus could hope to have some hand in formulating.
Willkie announced his exit from the race in the course of what had been billed as a presidential campaign speech in Omaha last night. He added to his prepared speech a statement which said, in part:
"It has been my conviction that no Republican could be nominated for president unless he received at the convention the votes of some of the major midwestern states, for it is in this section of the country that the Republican party has had its greatest resurgence."
"Therefore, I quite deliberately entered the Wisconsin primary to test whether the Republican voters of the state would support me and in the advocacy of every sacrifice and cost necessary to winning and shortening the war and in the advocacy of tangible, effective economic and political cooperation among the nations of the world for the preservation of the peace and the rebuilding of humanity."
Southerners on Spot
Willkie thus gave the first public explanation of the basic reasons why he entered a state often considered opposed to his views on international affairs, a state that Dewey carried handily in the 1940 pre-convention campaign.
The Willkie withdrawal may have paved the way for a Dewey bandwagon, especially in the south, where most Republican politicians have to get in the winner's parade early if they expect to keep their party jobs.
However, it left the situation confusing in such states as Oregon and Maryland, where Willkie's was the only name entered.
His name also is on the Nebraska preferential primary ballot for next Tuesday, along with that of Stassen, but the results are not binding on the 15 Republican delegates to be elected the same day.
Bricker Surprised
While some of his Republican colleagues had kind words for Willkie's stimulation of interest in the 1944 campaign, few of them expressed public regret that he had quit.
Governor Bricker, surprised at the announcement, said Willkie had created interest "by freely and courageously discussing his conception of the issues that are facing us in this very serious situation." The Ohioan added that he intended to "continue my best efforts to let the public know my position in all respects."
There was no word from Stassen, but Senator Ball (R-Minn.) praised Willkie's views and courage, calling for the party to take a "forthright and courageous position" by nominating the former Minnesota governor.

Other Comments
Senator Nye predicted Dewey's nomination on the first ballot, but Senator Austin (R-Vt.), who is liberal in his international views, said he hoped Dewey would have more to say about foreign affairs. Dewey will speak before the American Newspaper Publishers association in New York April 27, an appearance now doubly significant.
Democrats generally declined to comment but Senator Murray (D-Mont.), a fourth term supporter, said he regarded the outcome of the Wisconsin primary as evidence that Dewey had "isolationist support" which the Montanan predicted would prove "the kiss of death."
Murray told a reporter he did not believe the New York governor would be a "formidable candidate" because of lack of "background" for the office in view of the seriousness of the problems confronting the country.

Lancaster, Pa., April 6 (AP)—Lancaster County Judge Joseph H. Wissler today ordered Columbia borough council to reinstate its police chief, Eugene H. Could Not Be Complete
"The Cassino operation was laid on by the Air Forces at the request of the Army in an effort to destroy the roadblock and stronghold which prevented the ground forces from getting through this terrain feature," Eaker said.
"Air Force commanders advised the ground force commanders of the destruction which could reasonably be expected from such a bombardment and that the obstruction would not be completely devastated nor could the air attack be expected to dislodge all enemy opposition."
"The bombing of Cassino accomplished all that was expected of it by the Air Force commanders in view of the forces involved, the state of their training and the time during which those forces operated."
He added that the accuracy of the bombing at Cassino was about the same as against German industrial targets.
Underground Shelters
In his opinion, Eaker remarked, accuracy of the bombing had little effect on the general over-all result.
"Over a long and more sustained period a greater degree of devastation could have been caused in Cassino," he said, "but it probably would have had little bearing on the final result. The enemy forces in their cellars, deep dugouts and underground passages would not have been affected."
Eaker likened Cassino to places in the first World war which received such heavy shell-fire that they seemed to be wholly destroyed, yet when attacked by ground forces suddenly became alive with enemy troops concealed well below the surface and unaffected by the shelling.
Admits Limitations
The air chief admitted frankly that air power has its limitations. He pointed out the case of an admiral who recently acknowledged that supplies could not be landed on the Anzio beachhead under certain wind and tide conditions.
"This was accepted as a well-known limitation for naval forces," Eaker said. "Some surprise was expressed, however, when the air forces could not operate under certain conditions of winds blowing across their landing strips, or under certain conditions of cloud and visibility."

TROUBLE, TROUBLE, TROUBLE
Trouble came not double but triple for William Messenger, near Littlestown, last Saturday. When Mr. Messenger went to the mail box at his home along the Littlestown-Baltimore highway to get the mail, he found that the post supporting the box was broken. While he was attempting to make repairs, the mail box fell, striking him and breaking a rib. While the rib was being taped he suffered a heart attack. Mr. Messenger was reported somewhat improved today.

DOCTOR OPENS OFFICE
Dr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Richards, Jr., Philadelphia, have arrived in Littlestown and are occupying an apartment in the Mrs. Harry S. Crouse residence, South Queen street. Dr. Richards has opened an office for the practice of medicine in the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Harry S. Crouse, South Queen street. Dr. Richards is a graduate of Gettysburg college and Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia. He served as an interne at the Williamsport hospital.

WLB APPROVES WAGE DECISION
Washington, April 6 (AP)—The War Labor Board has approved in principle a wage agreement between Pennsylvania anthracite operators and the United Mine Workers.
A formal vote, probably unanimous, is expected in a day or two. Industry members' assent hinges upon acceptance of a statement of justification now being prepared by public members.
Withdrawal of government control over the mines probably would follow the approval.
In general, wage provisions of the agreement are unchanged from those now in effect under the Ickes-Lewis agreement of last November 3.
Some of the WLB members previously have felt that they could not approve an extra payment of 37.8 cents daily to tonnage workers as provided under the Secretary Ickes-President Lewis plan.
Their objection, it is understood, has been overcome with the explanation that the miners have lost a comparable amount under other provisions and there actually is no violation of the spirit of the stabilization program.

TO DRAFT MINERS
Washington, April 6 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today that he had little hope that any coal miners under 26 will be deferred from the draft and forecast that it will mean more restrictions on the use of coal next winter.

Weather Forecast
Cloudy and warmer tonight and Friday.
Chiusi, central Italian town now reported to be the German army communications center, is underlaid with a labyrinth of passages dating from pre-Roman days.

Urges Byrd, Farley Ticket For Democrats

Washington, April 6 (AP)—Expressing doubt that President Roosevelt would seek a fourth-term, Senator Bailey (D-N. C.) today proposed a Byrd-Farley ticket for the Democrats.
Said Bailey:
"I seriously question whether President Roosevelt will seek a fourth term. I think most of the delegates probably will be for him, but I question whether he will run."
He suggested Senator Byrd (D-Va.) and James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman, "would make a fine ticket and the Democrats could win with them."
In announcing his support of Byrd in an interview, he added, "I'm not drafting anybody—I'm nominating somebody."

He told Justice Baschore at that time that the charge had been brought on the basis of information secured from witnesses who could not be produced. Baker stated at the time of his arrest that he was not in the vicinity of the accident during the day it occurred.
Cpl. C. F. Tenke, head of the local sub-station, today said that all members of the local force had been working on the case since that time and that they now believe the case is about to "break wide open."

GUMBERT FIRST HURLER TO GO NINE INNINGS

By FRITZ HOWELL
New York, April 6 (AP)—Harry Gumbert, towering hurler for the St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the National League, is getting set to win his 100th major league game.

The tall guy from Texas is the first of the big league pitchers to go the nine-inning route this season, and he did it impressively yesterday in holding the second team to six hits and a single ninth-inning run.

Gumbert has won 98 games, and hopes to get over the century mark early in the season. Only seven pitchers now in the big leagues have broken the 100 mark.

Gumbert has proved a fine investment for the Cards since 1941 when Branch Rickey traded "Fibber" Bill McGee to the Giants for him. Since then Gumbert has won 30 games and lost 15, and six of his wins were at the expense of the Giants, against two losses. McGee won two and lost nine in 1941 for the Giants, and hasn't been with 'em since.

Six of yesterday's nine exhibitions were snowed under, but most of the clubs hoped to see action today should the weather clear.

The lowdown on the high spots: American League
St. Louis: General Mgr. Bill De Witt said all Browns now in training have signed contracts and Manager, Luke Sewell grinned broadly over the 10-2 victory over Toledo.

Washington: Owner Clark Griffith and Manager Ossie Bluege fear rains, snows and sold have set pitchers too far back for team to get off to a good start.

Cleveland: Russ Lyon, 230-pound semi-pro catcher, called for Army exam April 17, but may take it Wednesday in Indianapolis when outfielder Cliff Mapes goes before doctors. Skipper Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner abed with colds.

Boston: Joe Cronin, elated over recent showing of Pitcher Emmet O'Neil who won one and lost four last year, expects him to be club's No. 1 hurler.

Chicago: Coach Harold Mudd (Muddy) Ruel in charge today as Sox meet Cubs in French Lick exhibition.

Thornton Lee, Bill Dietrich and Orval Grove to pitch—and one of 'em will get season's opening assignment.

A's Trip Yanks
New York: Yanks will try to eliminate today the reasons the Athletics handed them that 9-1 setback yesterday. Outfielder Johnny Lindell gets head X-rayed today in induction test.

Philadelphia: Second Sacker Irving Hall, who hit two doubles and a single in smothering the Yanks 9-1, hopes the batting flurry means he'll roist his 1943 batting average of .256.

Detroit: Paul Trout, who won 20 and lost 12 last year, finally has been nickered for a run, Rochester getting it yesterday. But it was the first marker yielded by Trout in 11 against Rochester so everyone's exhibition innings (the pitched five against Rochester so everyone's satisfied).

National League
Pittsburgh: Holdout Vince DiMaggio still on fence as Prexy Benswanger makes no move after confab on wage demands. Art Cucurullo, southpaw rookie of Albany, put in 4-F after exam.

Philadelphia: Manager Fred Fitzsimmons picks Ken Raffensberger to pitch five frames, and Moose Fralick four, against Boston Red Sox today.

Boston: Shortstop William (Whitey) Wetzelmann, who hit .218 last year, had three cysts removed from left eyelid and missed yesterday's workout.

Chicago: Infielder Don Johnson out of week-end games with leg injury. Outfielder Bill Nicholson returns, leaving outfielder Lou Novikoff, infielder Roy Hughes and pitchers Claude Passeau and Jodie Phipps as only absentees.

Giants Snowbound
New York: Giants, snowbound, stayed in hotel lobby yesterday, but 50 teen-age kids arrived for tryout camp. Steve Filipowicz, former Fordham grid ace, signed contract, and Ernie Lombardi, catcher, arrived from coast.

Cincinnati: Bucky Walters and Elmer Riddle of the Reds will hurl against their team mates for Indianapolis in an exhibition today, with rookies Bob Ferguson and Jim Konstanty on the hill for the Queen City club.

Brooklyn: Manager Leo Durocher, 38, intimated he might start season at second base, despite "acorns" in right elbow region.

Fights Last Night

By The Associated Press
Elizabeth, N. J.—Freddie Russo, 129½, of Harway, N. J., knocked out Earl Mintz, 124½, of Jersey City (5); Larry Fontana, 162, Brooklyn, knocked out Steve Brogan, 166, Garfield, N. J. (2); Baby Beau, 134, Augusta, Ga., outpointed Al Simon, 134, New York (6).

ARMSTRONG OKAY
Los Angeles, April 6 (AP)—Henry Armstrong, who has held three world's championships during his boxing career, has passed his physical examination and is due to enter the Army in 21 days.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, April 6 (AP)—Spring training note: Weather conditions are excellent for the development of players' snow-shoveling muscles. . . . Since Jan. 1, in New York alone, 29 boxers have been discharged from the armed forces, mostly for trick knees and ear troubles. . . . Sammy Baugh, who has been devoting his spare time to putting the Rotan, Tex., high football team through spring practice, claims he has been getting a kick from the experience. And no doubt some of the kids have been getting a kick, too, and probably a pass. . . . Hugh James Reilly, who picked the winners of Canada's largest daily double—nearly $8,500 at Thorncliffe in 1932—died last Monday. . . . Baseball's "little red book" will be green this season—just like the players.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Ash Wing, Tallahassee, Fla., News-Democrat: "Gil Jarvis, an 18-year-old catcher from Oklahoma City, was a 400 hitter last season with the Oklahoma Natural Gassers and this spring sought a big league try-out. He got one—with the Brooklyn Dodgers. . . . Hmmm. Natural Gassers? Brooklyn? Oh well, probably just a coincidence."

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Young Kid McCoy, army-discharged middleweight, has taken out a referee's license and may not even try a boxing comeback. . . . Dr. J. P. McDonough, who cared for Sun Beau for four years before that great horse died last week, thinks Sun Beau's two-year-old son, Rate Case, may turn out to be a real chip off the old block. . . . Jim Tabor, Red Sox third baseman, went to college at Alabama on a basketball scholarship but was signed by the Sox after a season of freshman baseball. . . . Corp. Billy Conn is scheduled to box a four-round exhibition at the London, O., prison farm April 19. . . . When a few English-speaking baseballers turned up at the Chattanooga, Tenn., baseball park, sports editor Wirt Gammon of the Chattanooga Times, wrote: "The Americans established a beach head at Engel stadium yesterday."

SERVICE DEPT.
The Camp Lejeune Globe, official voice of the big North Carolina Marine station, is campaigning editorially for a camp "varsity" baseball team. There are 27 ex-professionals in camp. . . . Former Notre Dame footballer Jim Mello, Jim White, Bob Hanlon, Bob Palladino, Jim Tharp and Lou Rymkus have been assigned to the ships company at Great Lakes, which means they'll probably still be there next fall. . . . Lou Plummer, former heavyweight wrestler, is in charge of the M.P. detachment at the Anzio beachhead. And Joe Savoldi, another ex-burper, is with the AMG in Italy because of his command of several languages. . . . Mike Corgan, Detroit Lions full-back recently reported at Princeton for two months of instruction before joining the fleet as a line officer. . . . Off the Tiger performances of the past few years, Mike should be giving the instruction.

Jack And Miller May Meet In May
Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—A match between Beau Jack, former lightweight champion, and Pittsburgh's Billy Miller, who has 26 straight triumphs under his belt, loomed as a possibility today as Matchmaker Jake Mintz announced he was negotiating with Jack's manager for such a bout.

The fight, if finally consummated, would be an outdoor match here May 22.

Stockholders To Decide By Proxies
Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—Stockholders of National Supply company, split in two factions seeking control of the firm, today awaited the results of a proxy vote which would assign control to either the executive management, led by President A. E. Walker, or another group, headed by J. H. Hillman, Jr., and the Shoulin family, of Springfield, Ohio.

Judges of election are three of the firm's officers, Vice President George Clifford, Treasurer A. T. Huizinga, and General Accountant G. E. Kauffman.

40 CINDERMEN SEEK POSTS ON MAROON SQUAD

Despite the lack of a single letterman from last year's Gettysburg high school track squad, Coach Mel Dry and his assistant, Fred Haehnlen, are anticipating a fair team this year.

Eighteen of the candidates were squad members last season and from that group the Maroon coaches hope to build a satisfactory team.

It was announced today that a sixth meet has been scheduled, that being a dual affair with Mercersburg academy at Mercersburg on May 20.

Complete Schedule
The complete schedule follows: April 21, Waynesboro, home; April 28, Carlisle, away; May 5, South Penn conference meeting at Waynesboro under the lights; May 12, Hanover, home; May 18, Harrisburg Catholic, home, and May 20, Mercersburg academy, away.

From an original turnout of 54 candidates there are now 40 laid seeking regular starting posts. Inclement weather has hindered drills and it is doubtful if the squad will be in top condition for its opening meet.

On Tuesday the Maroons lost a promising performer, George Gorman, who tore a ligament in his right knee while jumping. He will be out for the season.

Father Of 14 And Son Join Navy Today
Syracuse, N. Y., April 6 (AP)—A 46-year-old father of 14 children and his 17-year-old son joined the Navy today.

Anti-Fascists Seek To Assist Badoglio
Naples, April 6 (AP)—Leaders of six anti-Fascist political parties sought a formula today for their entrance into a coalition government proposed by the Communists to strengthen Premier Marshal Badoglio's hand for a greater Italian war effort against the Germans.

The way was cleared in part last night by the announcement that King Vittorio Emanuele was ready to retire—without abdicating the throne—and designate his son, Crown Prince Umberto, as his deputy.

Umberto, prince of Piedmont, confirmed the king's readiness to surrender his powers in an interview with the Associated Press.

"The king is old and ready to retire," Umberto said. "He has had a full life."

Whether the king would make the move before Allied occupation of Rome remained to be seen.

Ex-Bullet Sprinter Coaching 20 Years

Coatesville, Pa., April 6.—Robert G. (Bob) Althouse started his twentieth consecutive season as head track coach of Coatesville high school this week. Althouse, star at Gettysburg college back in the days of 1921-1925, chose to give up the coaching reins this spring, but was persuaded to continue during the duration because of the manpower shortage in the coaching departments.

NINE-GAME CARD ANNOUNCED FOR PITT GRIDDERS

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—A nine-game schedule, much better balanced than the back-breaking card which launched "T" master Clark Shaughnessy on his University of Pittsburgh coaching task last year, comprises the football diet for Pitt fans next fall.

Seven 1943 opponents are retained and Army and Indiana universities are the newcomers on the program announced last night by Athletic Director Jimmy Hagan. Only 1943 rival dropped is Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

West Virginia, beaten 20-0 last fall, opens the 1944 card, followed by Notre Dame. Bethany is next, permitting a breather between the Notre Dame and Army contests.

Illinois comes here for the first time. If Carnegie Tech fails to field a team, some other foe will be substituted. After an open date, the jungle cats then move into Columbus for a meeting with Ohio State.

Close With Lions
The Indiana U. game will be played at Bloomington, a home-and-home series contract providing for a 1945 meeting here. The two teams last met in 1942 when Indiana won, 19-7.

The Panthers close their season with a traditional date with their Penn State rivals.

With Indiana joining Ohio State and Illinois on the Pitt card, Shaughnessy will have three chances to strangle a Western conference jinx which has defied the Panthers since the Jock Sutherland era. Not since Pitt whipped Wisconsin 26-6 in 1938 has a Panther team defeated a rival from the Big Nine.

The schedule: September: 23, West Virginia; 30, Notre Dame.
October: 7, Bethany; 14, at Army; 21, Illinois; 28, Carnegie Tech.
November: 4, permanently open; 11, at Ohio State; 18, at Indiana U.; 25, Penn State.

RAF Blasts Nazi Plane Repair Plant
London, April 6 (AP)—RAF heavy bombers, taking to the air for the first time in a week, last night blasted German aircraft repair plants at Toulouse in southern France, less than 50 miles from the Spanish border, the air ministry announced today.

"The targets were clearly seen in the moonlight and first reports indicate that the bombing was effective," the announcement said.

The raid represented a round-trip flight of at least 1,000 miles, but despite the length of the journey all but one of the big bombers returned, the air ministry said. Mines also were laid in enemy waters during the night.

YANKS' LYONS MAY REPLACE JOHN LINDELL
Atlantic City, April 6 (AP)—If Marse Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees is real hard up for a replacement for Johnny Lindell, he may find that gentleman where he found his Navy-bound centerfielder—right on his own pitching staff.

In Al Lyons, a rookie right-hander who won 4 and lost 6 for Kansas City last year, he has a husky candidate who can do a better than fair job in the outer gardens where it is conceivable he might follow in Lindell's footsteps.

When Lyons broke into baseball in Los Angeles, he was a pitcher but due to an arm injury he turned to outfielding when he joined the Yankee chain at Joplin, Missouri. In 1941 he hit .304 in the class C western association, drove in 83 runs, hit 32 doubles, 10 triples and 10 homers.

A year in Binghamton, New York, where he led the eastern league in assists with 24 as a right fielder but slumped off to a .249 hitter preceded last year's adventures in Kansas City. He started as a fielder but went back to pitching for Manager Johnny Neun, after showing one of the best throwing arms in baseball and power-hitting ability, but too much of a tendency toward serious slumps at the plate.

Lindell, of course, came to the Child Dies After Drinking Whiskey

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—Two-year-old James White died in a hospital here last night of what people reported was acute alcoholism several hours after he had taken a bottle of whiskey from a refrigerator in the home and swallowed almost a pint of it.
The child's aunt, Mrs. Mary Inserra, said he obtained the bottle while she was cleaning a bedroom and was sitting on the floor, with the bottle almost empty, when she discovered him.

YANKS' LYONS MAY REPLACE JOHN LINDELL

Atlantic City, April 6 (AP)—If Marse Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees is real hard up for a replacement for Johnny Lindell, he may find that gentleman where he found his Navy-bound centerfielder—right on his own pitching staff.

In Al Lyons, a rookie right-hander who won 4 and lost 6 for Kansas City last year, he has a husky candidate who can do a better than fair job in the outer gardens where it is conceivable he might follow in Lindell's footsteps.

When Lyons broke into baseball in Los Angeles, he was a pitcher but due to an arm injury he turned to outfielding when he joined the Yankee chain at Joplin, Missouri. In 1941 he hit .304 in the class C western association, drove in 83 runs, hit 32 doubles, 10 triples and 10 homers.

A year in Binghamton, New York, where he led the eastern league in assists with 24 as a right fielder but slumped off to a .249 hitter preceded last year's adventures in Kansas City. He started as a fielder but went back to pitching for Manager Johnny Neun, after showing one of the best throwing arms in baseball and power-hitting ability, but too much of a tendency toward serious slumps at the plate.

Lindell, of course, came to the

GUMBERT FIRST HURLER TO GO NINE INNINGS

By FRITZ HOWELL

New York, April 6 (AP)—Harry Gumbert, towering hurler for the St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the National league, is getting set to win his 100th major league game.

The tall guy from Texas is the first of the big league pitchers to go the nine-inning route this season, and he did it impressively yesterday in holding the second team to six hits and a single ninth-inning run.

Gumbert has won 98 games, and hopes to get over the century hump early in the season. Only seven pitchers now in the big leagues have broken the 100 mark.

Gumbert has proved a fine investment for the Cards since 1941 when Branch Rickey traded "Pibber" Bill McGee to the Giants for him. Since then Gumbert has won 30 games and lost 15, and six of his wins were at the expense of the Giants, against two losses. McGee won two and lost nine in 1941 for the Giants, and hasn't been with 'em since.

Six of yesterday's nine exhibitions were snowed under, but most of the clubs hoped to see action today should the weather clear.

The lowdown on the high spots:

American League
St. Louis: General Mgr. Bill DeWitt said all Browns now in training have signed contracts and Manager, Luke Sewell, grinned broadly over the 10-2 victory over Toledo.

Washington: Owner Clark Griffith and Manager Ossie Bluege fear rains, snows and sold have set pitchers too far back for team to get off to a good start.

Cleveland: Russ Lyon, 230-pound semi-pro catcher, called for Army exam April 17, but may take it Wednesday in Indianapolis when outfielder Cliff Mapes goes before doctors. Skipper Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner abed with colds.

Boston: Joe Cronin, elated over recent showing of Pitcher Emmet O'Neil who won one and lost four last year, expects him to be club's No. 1 hurler.

Chicago: Coach Harold (Muddy) Ruel in charge today as Sox meet Cubs in French Lick exhibition. Thornton Lee, Bill Dietrich and Orval Grove to pitch—and one of 'em will get season's opening assignment.

A's Trip Yanks
New York: Yanks will try to eliminate today the reasons the Athletics handed them that 9-1 setback yesterday. Outfielder Johnny Lindell gets head X-rayed today in induction test.

Philadelphia: Second Sacker Irving Hall, who hit two doubles and a single in smothering the Yanks 9-1, hopes the batting flurry means he'll roist his 1943 batting average of .256.

Detroit: Paul Trout, who won 20 and lost 12 last year, finally has been nixed for a run, Rochester getting it yesterday. But it was the first marker yielded by Trout in 11 against Rochester) so everyone's exhibition innings (he pitched five against Rochester so everyone's satisfied.

National League
Pittsburgh: Holdout Vince DiMaggio still on fence as Prexy Benswanger makes no move after confab on wage demands. Art Cuccurullo, southpaw rookie of Albany, put in 4-P after exam.

Philadelphia: Manager Fred Fitzsimmons picks Ken Raffensberger to pitch five frames, and Moose Fralick four, against Boston Red Sox today.

Boston: Shortstop William (Whitey) Wettemann, who hit 218 last year, had three cysts removed from left eyelid and missed yesterday's workout.

Chicago: Infielder Don Johnson out of week-end games with leg injury. Outfielder Bill Nicholson reports, leaving outfielder Lou Novikoff, infielder Roy Hughes and pitchers Claude Passeau and Jodie Phipps as only absences.

Giants Snowbound
New York: Giants, snowbound, stayed in hotel lobby yesterday, but 50 teen-age kids arrived for tryout camp. Steve Filipowicz, former Fordham grid ace, signed contract, and Ernie Lombardi, catcher, arrived from coast.

Cincinnati: Bucky Walters and Elmer Riddle of the Reds will hurl against their team mates for Indianapolis in an exhibition today, with rookies Bob Ferguson and Jim Konstanty on the hill for the Queen City club.

Brooklyn: Manager Leo Durocher, 38, intimidated he might start season at second base, despite "acorns" in right elbow region.

Stockholders To Decide By Proxies

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—Stockholders of National Supply company, split in two factions seeking control of the firm, today awaited the results of a proxy vote which would assign control to either the executive management, led by President A. E. Walker, or another group, headed by J. H. Hillman, Jr., and the Shouvin family, of Springfield, Ohio.

Judges of election are three of the firm's officers, Vice President George Clifford, Treasurer A. T. Huizinga, and General Accountant G. E. Kauffman.

Fights Last Night

By The Associated Press
Elizabeth, N. J.—Freddie Russo, 129½, of Barway, N. J., knocked out Earl Mintz, 124½, of Jersey City (5); Larry Fontana, 162, Brooklyn, knocked out Steve Brogan, 166, Garfield, N. J. (2); Baby Beau, 134, Augusta, Ga., outpointed Al Simon, 134, New York (6).

ARMSTRONG OKAY
Los Angeles, April 6 (AP)—Henry Armstrong, who has held three world's championships during his boxing career, has passed his physical examination and is due to enter the Army in 21 days.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 6 (AP)—Spring training note: Weather conditions are excellent for the development of players' snow-shoveling muscles. . . . Since Jan. 1, in New York alone, 29 boxers have been discharged from the armed forces, mostly for trick knees and ear troubles. . . . Sammy Baugh, who has been devoting his spare time to putting the Rotan, Tex., high football team through spring practice, claims he has been getting a kick from the experience. And no doubt some of the kids have been getting a kick, too, and probably a pass. . . . Hugh James Reilly, who picked the winners of Canada's largest daily double—nearly $8,500 at Thorncliffe in 1932—died last Monday. . . . Baseball's "little red book" will be green this season—just like the players.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Ash Wing, Tallahassee, Fla., News-Democrat: "Gil Jarvis, an 18-year-old catcher from Oklahoma City, was a 400 hitter last season with the Oklahoma Natural Gasers and this spring sought a big league try-out. He got one—with the Brooklyn Dodgers. . . . Hmmm. Natural Gasers? Brooklyn? Oh well, probably just a coincidence."

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Young Kid McCoy, army-discharged middleweight, has taken out a referee's license and may not even try a boxing comeback. . . . Dr. J. P. McDonough, who cared for Sun Beau for four years before that great horse died last week, thinks Sun Beau's two-year-old son, Reale Case, may turn out to be a real chip off the old block. . . . Jim Tabor, Red Sox third baseman, went to college at Alabama on a basketball scholarship but was signed by the Sox after a season of freshman baseball. . . . Corp. Billy Conn is scheduled to box a four-round exhibition at the London, O. prison farm April 19. . . . When a few English-speaking baseballers turned up at the Chattanooga, Tenn., baseball park, sports editor Wirt Gammon of the Chattanooga Times, wrote: "The Americans established a beach head at Engel stadium yesterday."

SERVICE DEPT.
The Camp Lejeune Globe, official voice of the big North Carolina Marine station, is campaigning editorially for a camp "varsity" baseball team. There are 27 ex-professionals in camp. . . . Former Notre Dame footballers Jim Mello, Jim White, Bob Hanlon, Bob Palladino, Jim Sharp and Lou Rymkus have been assigned to the ships company at Great Lakes, which means they'll probably still be there next fall. . . . Lou Plummer, former heavyweight wrestler, is in charge of the M.P. detachment at the Anzio beachhead. And Joe Savoldi, another ex-burper, is with the AMG in Italy because of his command of several languages. . . . Mike Morgan, Detroit Lions fullback recently reported at Princeton for two months of instruction before joining the fleet as a line officer. . . . Off the Tiger performances of the past few years, Mike should be giving the instruction.

Jack And Miller May Meet In May
Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—A match between Beau Jack, former lightweight champion, and Pittsburgh's Billy Miller, who has 26 straight triumphs under his belt, loomed as a possibility today as Matchmaker Jake Mintz announced he was negotiating with Jack's manager for such a bout.

The fight, if finally consummated, would be an outdoor match here May 22.

40 CINDERMEN SEEK POSTS ON MAROON SQUAD

Despite the lack of a single letterman from last year's Gettysburg high school track squad, Coach Mel Dry and his assistant, Fred Haehnlen, are anticipating a fair team this year.

Eighteen of the candidates were squad members last season and from that group the Maroon coaches hope to build a satisfactory team.

It was announced today that a sixth meet has been scheduled, that being a dual affair with Mercersburg academy at Mercersburg on May 20.

Complete Schedule
The complete schedule follows: April 21, Waynesboro, home; April 28, Carlisle, away; May 5, South Penn conference meeting at Waynesboro under the lights; May 12, Hanover, home; May 18, Harrisburg Catholic, home, and May 20, Mercersburg academy, away.

From an original turnout of 54 candidates there are now 40 laid seeking regular starting posts. Inclement weather has hindered drills and it is doubtful if the squad will be in top condition for its opening meet.

On Tuesday the Maroons lost a promising performer, George Gorman, who tore a ligament in his right knee while jumping. He will be out for the season.

Father Of 14 And Son Join Navy Today
Syracuse, N. Y., April 6 (AP)—A 46-year-old father of 14 children and his 17-year-old son joined the Navy today.

Leo Thesier of Lowville, who has a 23-year-old son in the Army, and his son, Paul, passed physical examinations yesterday and were ordered to report to Buffalo for enlistment.

Anti-Fascists Seek To Assist Badoglio
Naples, April 6 (AP)—Leaders of six anti-Fascist political parties sought a formula today for their entrance into a coalition government proposed by the Communists to strengthen Premier Marshal Badoglio's hand for a greater Italian war effort against the Germans.

The way was cleared in part last night by the announcement that King Vittorio Emanuele was ready to retire—without abdicating the throne—and designate his son, Crown Prince Umberto, as his deputy.

Umberto, prince of Piedmont, confirmed the king's readiness to surrender his powers in an interview with the Associated Press.

"The king is old and ready to retire," Umberto said. "He has had a full life."

Whether the king would make the move before Allied occupation of Rome remained to be seen.

Ex-Bullet Sprinter Coaching 20 Years

Coatesville, Pa., April 6.—Robert G. (Bob) Althouse started his twentieth consecutive season as head track coach of Coatesville high school this week. Althouse, star at Gettysburg college back in the days of 1921-1925, chose to give up the coaching reins this spring, but was persuaded to continue during the duration because of the manpower shortage in the coaching departments.

NINE-GAME CARD ANNOUNCED FOR PITT GRIDDEERS

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—A nine-game schedule, much better balanced than the back-breaking card which launched "T" master Clark Shaughnessy on his University of Pittsburgh coaching task last year, comprises the football diet for Pitt fans next fall.

Seven 1943 opponents are retained and Army and Indiana universities are the newcomers on the program announced last night by Athletic Director Jimmy Hagan. Only 1943 rival dropped is Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

West Virginia, beaten 20-0 last fall, opens the 1944 card, followed by Notre Dame. Bethany is next, permitting a breather between the Notre Dame and Army contests.

Illinois comes here for the first time. If Carnegie Tech falls to field a team, some other foe will be substituted. After an open date, the jungle cats then move into Columbus for a meeting with Ohio State.

Close With Lions
The Indiana U. game will be played at Bloomington, a home-and-home series contract providing for a 1945 meeting here. The two teams last met in 1942 when Indiana won, 19-7.

The Panthers close their season with a traditional date with their Penn State rivals.

With Indiana joining Ohio State and Illinois on the Pitt card, Shaughnessy will have three chances to strangle a Western conference jinx which has defied the Panthers since the Jock Sutherland era. Not since Pitt whipped Wisconsin 26-6 in 1938 has a Panther team defeated a rival from the Big Nine.

The schedule:
September: 23, West Virginia; 30, Notre Dame.
October: 7, Bethany; 14, at Army; 21, Illinois; 28, Carnegie Tech.
November: 4, permanently open; 11, at Ohio State; 18, at Indiana U.; 25, Penn State.

RAF Blasts Nazi Plane Repair Plant
London, April 6 (AP)—RAF heavy bombers, taking to the air for the first time in a week, last night blasted German aircraft repair plants at Toulouse in southern France, less than 50 miles from the Spanish border, the air ministry announced today.

"The targets were clearly seen in the moonlight and first reports indicate that the bombing was effective," the announcement said.

The raid represented a round-trip flight of at least 1,000 miles, but despite the length of the journey all but one of the big bombers returned, the air ministry said. Mines also were laid in enemy waters during the night.

YANKS' LYONS MAY REPLACE JOHN LINDELL

Atlantic City, April 6 (AP)—If Marse Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees is real hard up for a replacement for Johnny Lindell, he may find that gentleman where he found his Navy-bound centerfielder—right on his own pitching staff.

In Al Lyons, a rookie righthander who won 4 and lost 6 for Kansas City last year, he has a husky candidate who can do a better than fair job in the outer gardens where it is conceivable he might follow in Lindell's footsteps.

When Lyons broke into baseball in Los Angeles, he was a pitcher but due to an arm injury he turned to outfielding when he joined the Yankee chain at Joplin, Missouri. In 1941 he hit .304 in the class C western association, drove in 83 runs, hit 32 doubles, 10 triples and 10 homers.

A year in Binghamton, New York, where he led the eastern league in assists with 24 as a right fielder but slumped off to a .249 hitter preceded last year's adventures in Kansas City. He started as a fielder but went back to pitching for Manager Johnny Neun, after showing one of the best throwing arms in baseball and power-hitting ability, but too much of a tendency toward serious slumps at the plate.

Lindell, of course, came to the

RAF Blasts Nazi Plane Repair Plant
London, April 6 (AP)—RAF heavy bombers, taking to the air for the first time in a week, last night blasted German aircraft repair plants at Toulouse in southern France, less than 50 miles from the Spanish border, the air ministry announced today.

"The targets were clearly seen in the moonlight and first reports indicate that the bombing was effective," the announcement said.

The raid represented a round-trip flight of at least 1,000 miles, but despite the length of the journey all but one of the big bombers returned, the air ministry said. Mines also were laid in enemy waters during the night.

Today's Talk
GREATER THAN ALL THESE
I have seen the growth of America over half a century. I have seen small cities grow to big ones, and in these latter, towering and magnificent buildings erected, some a hundred stories above the street. I have seen mud roads turned into smooth and beautiful highways. I have seen the results of inventions that were once laughed at influencing and changing the mode of American life. I have known poor boys who later became noted—and some very wealthy—because of their industry and developed ideas. I marvel at the radio, the rapid printing press, the aeroplane, the automobile, the telephone, the colored, talking moving picture, and any number of useful creations that have added to the joy and convenience of man, but greater than these has been the dream of each man who conceived the thing accomplished. And thus will it ever be, for there are no limits to dreams. Those dreams, however, are never satisfied. They keep enlarging, climbing higher, and growing richer in their varied elements. They are nourished by the eternal aspiration of the human heart, put there at birth. The divine discontent, so evident within the consciousness of those who wish to leave the world better than when they came into it, is what makes dreams come true. Greater than the mere gift is the giver. Greater than the word is the deed. But greatest of all is the thought, the impulse of the heart, and the God-given urge that furnished the inspiration. We are all greater as custodians than owners. The richest experiences of a man's life never get into a book. They are forever treasured within his heart. They are, however, hunted in the words that he utters and in the deeds that he does. Neither fame nor acclaim are essential to one's happiness, but the voice of a man who has left cheer, hope and the substance of faith behind, clarifies the very air which he once breathed to give him life. Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "So Many Things."

WILLKIE QUILTS CAMPAIGN FOR PRESIDENCY

Omaha, April 6 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican party's 1940 standard bearer and an indefatigable campaigner for the honor again this year, has withdrawn from the race, conceding he has no chance to win the party's 1944 presidential nomination.

In an abrupt and dramatic announcement at a rally in Omaha city auditorium last night Willkie, at the conclusion of his prepared speech on "foreign policy," told a crowd of 3,000 that he was quitting as a candidate for the GOP nomination for president, asserting "it is obvious that I can not be nominated."

The entirely unexpected statement, which Willkie described as "something quite personal—something perhaps of not much importance"—urged that his friends "desist from any activity" toward his nomination.

Attributed to Wisconsin Vote
His decision to quit the race was attributed to his failure to win a single delegate Tuesday in the Wisconsin primary. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, although not an active or declared candidate, emerged with 15 delegates pledged outright and three claimed for him.

The crowd, apparently not immediately sensing the real significance of the brief announcement, vigorously applauded Willkie. He was surrounded by those on the platform, including Mrs. Willkie, as he finished his valedictory saying, "Thank you, very much."

Willkie and his party left Omaha on a late train, enroute to New York where he is scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

His Foreign Policy
In his 50-minute prepared speech, devoted primarily to criticism of the administration's foreign policy, Willkie gave no intimation of his withdrawal announcement. But at the end of his speech, which climaxed his five-day campaign of Nebraska, where he is entered in the presidential primary April 11, he made known his decision to quit.

Addressing "fellow Americans," Willkie said his announcement "involves what I have been trying to do—what I have been fighting for." He said it was his conviction that "no Republican could be nominated for president unless he received at the convention the votes of some of the major midwestern states."

REMOVE DOUBT ON NEW QUINS

Buenos Aires, April 6 (AP)—The Dionnes appeared today to have an authentic set of rivals for quintuplets honors.

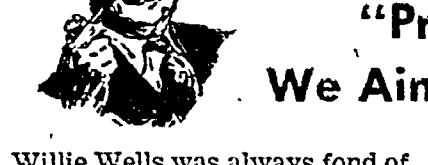

Dr. Jose Alejandro Beruti informed the Argentine Medical association that after a careful investigation he saw no reason to doubt that Senora Franco Diligenti of Buenos Aires bore quintuplets last July 15—two boys and three girls.

Dr. Beruti, head of the obstetrical department of the University of Buenos Aires School of Medicine and first recognized medical authority to report on the case, said that "evidence which greeted first newspaper announcement of the births apparently was unwarranted by the data he had uncovered."

The skepticism arose when no trace of quintuplets could be found in official birth records. The parsons explained then that they had tried to keep the event secret because of the fear of publicity.

Dr. Beruti declared that examination showed all the Diligenti children were now in perfect health although, he said, the last to be born, a girl, had required artificial respiration, warm baths, and stimulants.

And I guess that's the way all our soldiers feel. They're fighting a war—and they mean to fight it to a finish—till they can come home to the little pleasures that they've missed so

Says GOP Victory Will Aid War Effort

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, told a Press conference prior to a meeting of Pittsburgh industrialists last night that he believed election of a Republican this year would "strengthen the war effort" by giving business greater confidence.

He said a Republican victory would eliminate "secret understandings and commitments that are no part of our Democratic system."

The dinner was sponsored by A. W. Robertson, chairman of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company; E. T. Weir, president of National Steel company, and H. S. Wherrett, president of Pittsburgh Plate Glass company.

Officers installed were Edmund Thomas, president; William A. Miller, vice president; George Boehner, secretary; C. W. Cook, treasurer; N. B. Schuurman, sergeant-at-arms.

New Assistant County Superintendent of Schools: The desk of Professor Lloyd Keefe, assistant county superintendent of schools, at the court house, remained idle on Monday and upon inquiry it was learned that he and Mrs. Keefe had been presented with a fine baby boy on Saturday.

On the Moving List: H. T. Stauffer, steward at the Adams county home for the past four years, has moved his family to Cashtown where he will be employed in the general store of Robert Bream.

Miss Ruth Garretson Champion Speller of Adams County: Miss Ruth Garretson, a pupil at the Biglerville High School, won the county spelling contest and a $10 gold piece on Saturday afternoon when the contest closed shortly after 2 o'clock.

Girls Glee Club Wins Applause: In their first public recital in Gettysburg, since organizing, members of the Gettysburg College girls' glee club won favorable comment and abundant applause from a large audience in Brua Chapel Thursday evening.

To Mrs. Rudolph Rosentengel, who led the performers in their effort goes much of the credit for the success.

Miss Treva Weikert gave several enjoyable readings.

C. of C. Committee to Meet With Bandmen: President C. W. Cook, of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, appointed P. W. Stallsmith as chairman and W. A. Miller and George F. Mitchell as members of a committee of the Commerce body to meet with Charles Cook, George Gouker and George Hamme representing the Citizens Band to the end of aiding the Band with its extension program.

Held Fiscal Funeral from Parent's Home Here: On account of the almost impassable condition of country roads, funeral services for Dennis H. Fiscel, well known farmer of Mt. Joy township, who died on Saturday morning, were held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Fiscel, 217 Baltimore street, Thursday afternoon, instead of from the deceased's home as originally planned.

Gen. Ludendorff Freed by Court (By Associated Press) Munich, April 1—General Ludendorff, former German field marshal, was acquitted today of the charge of treason for his part in the unsuccessful revolt here last November. Adolf Hitler and former police chief Goebbels were convicted and each was sentenced to 5 years imprisonment and fined 200 gold marks.

The verdict in Ludendorff's case was received with great acclaim by the crowd which had supported the former field marshal throughout the trial.

Majestic Club in Celebration: Twelve years ago Tuesday, twelve young men of Gettysburg banded themselves together with the idea of forming a social organization and establishing club rooms where they could meet and indulge in general good times. They held their first meeting in the old Star and Sentinel building, Baltimore street. Monday evening the fathers of members were invited as guests to help celebrate the anniversary.

Norton Miller has been president of the club since 1917. In Earl Stallsmith are combined the duties of secretary and treasurer.

WILLKIE QUILTS CAMPAIGN FOR PRESIDENCY
Omaha, April 6 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican party's 1940 standard bearer and an indefatigable campaigner for the honor again this year, has withdrawn from the race, conceding he has no chance to win the party's 1944 presidential nomination.

In an abrupt and dramatic announcement at a rally in Omaha city auditorium last night Willkie, at the conclusion of his prepared speech on "foreign policy," told a crowd of 3,000 that he was quitting as a candidate for the GOP nomination for president, asserting "it is obvious that I can not be nominated."

The entirely unexpected statement, which Willkie described as "something quite personal—something perhaps of not much importance"—urged that his friends "desist from any activity" toward his nomination.

Attributed to Wisconsin Vote
His decision to quit the race was attributed to his failure to win a single delegate Tuesday in the Wisconsin primary. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, although not an active or declared candidate, emerged with 15 delegates pledged outright and three claimed for him.

The crowd, apparently not immediately sensing the real significance of the brief announcement, vigorously applauded Willkie. He was surrounded by those on the platform, including Mrs. Willkie, as he finished his valedictory saying, "Thank you, very much."

Willkie and his party left Omaha on a late train, enroute to New York where he is scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

Hits Foreign Policy
In his 50-minute prepared speech, devoted primarily to criticism of the administration's foreign policy, Willkie gave no intimation of his withdrawal announcement. But at the end of his speech, which climaxed his five-day campaign of Nebraska, where he is entered in the presidential primary April 11, he made known his decision to quit.

Addressing "fellow Americans," Willkie said his announcement "involves what I have been trying to do—what I have been fighting for."

He said it was his conviction that "no Republican could be nominated for president unless he received at the convention the votes of some of the major midwestern states."

Certify AFL Union At Landis Tool Co.
Washington, April 6 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today certified the International Association of Machinists (AFL) as bargaining representative for production and maintenance employees of the Landis Machine company, Waynesboro, Pa.

NLRB announced that 436 employees voted for the AFL union at an election March 16, 196 for the Independent Employees' Association of the Landis Machine company, and 49 for neither.

Paramushiro, northernmost Japan outpost in the Pacific, has few attractions as a place to live; its mile-high mountains slope directly into the sea and it is fog shrouded.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The verdict in Ludendorff's case was received with great acclaim by the crowd which had supported the former field marshal throughout the trial.

REMOVE DOUBT ON NEW QUINS
Buenos Aires, April 6 (AP)—The Dionnes appeared today to have an authentic set of rivals for quintuplets honors.

Dr. Jose Alejandro Beruti informed the Argentine Medical association that after a careful investigation he saw no reason to doubt that Senora Franco Diligenti of Buenos Aires bore quintuplets last July 15—two boys and three girls.

Dr. Beruti, head of the obstetrical department of the University of Buenos Aires School of Medicine and first recognized medical authority to report on the case, said that skepticism which greeted first newspaper announcement of the births apparently was unwarranted by the data he had uncovered.

The skepticism arose when no trace of quintuplets could be found in official birth records. The parents explained then that they had tried to keep the event secret because of the fear of publicity.

Dr. Beruti declared that exami-

Says GOP Victory Will Aid War Effort
Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, told a Press conference prior to a meeting of Pittsburgh industrialists last night that he believed election of a Republican this year would "strengthen the war effort" by giving business greater confidence.

He said a Republican victory would eliminate "secret understandings and commitments that are no part of our Democratic system."

The dinner was sponsored by A. W. Robertson, chairman of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company; E. T. Weir, president of National Steel company, and H. S. Wherrett, president of Pittsburgh Plate Glass company.

nation showed all the Diligenti children were now in perfect health although, he said, the last to be born, a girl, had required artificial respiration, warm baths, and stimulants.

Get Court Order To Open Ballot Boxes

Bloomsburg, Pa., April 6 (AP)—Republicans contesting Columbia county's November 2 county commissioners' election have court authority today to open a ballot box and inspect ballots cast in the south-east district of Conyngham township.

Judge G. William Kreisher granted their petition yesterday, after hearing charges that enough fraudulent ballots were cast to change the results of the vote, which the Democrats won.

Grant G. Miller, Democrat, definitely was reelected. His running mate, Fred E. Lord, of Espy, Democratic county chairman, received 51 more votes than one Republican, Raymond G. Buckalew, of Bloomsburg, and 28 more than another, Bryson C. Longensberger, of Berwick.

Would Dehydrate Surplus State Spuds

Washington, April 6 (AP)—A request that Pennsylvania's surplus potato crop be speeded to dehydrating plants to avoid spoilage was made today by Representative Myers (D-Pa.).

In a letter to War Food Administrator Marvin Jones, the Philadelphia congressman declared that of 800 carloads shipped during the last two weeks to dehydrating plants in Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota for the manufacture of explosives and other war materials only 66 were from Pennsylvania.

"The fact that a greater number of Maine potatoes were moved in preference to Pennsylvania's crop is an indication that undue preferential consideration was given to the big Maine growers," Myers said.

The War Food Administration has raised 1944's milk production goal a billion quarts over the 1943 total.

RUMANIAN OIL FIELDS FIRED; DOWN 40 PLANES

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters, April 6 (AP)—American heavy bombers and their fighter escorts shot down more than 40 enemy planes during yesterday's big raid on Ploesti, Rumania, Germany's main source of oil. Allied headquarters announced today.

The main targets on this raid were rail yards choked with tank cars. Bombs were showered over tracks, rolling stock and adjacent buildings, causing many fires and explosions, an announcement said. Adjacent oil refineries also were hit.

Smaller formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators attacked railways at Nis and Leskovac in Yugoslavia as the Allies pursued a relentless campaign against German communications in the Balkans in coordination with the Russian land advance.

Cut Rail Lines While the heavy bombers were thus occupied on distant targets, mediums and fighter-bombers continued their intensive campaign against German communications in Italy. It was announced that all rail lines from northern Italy to the front area have been cut and that the Germans have been unable to move through trains since March 28.

Air Marshal Sir John C. Slessor, deputy commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean Allied air forces, discussing the importance of the air campaign in the Balkans, said the Ploesti oil fields were vital to the Germans "on anything like a long term basis."

"The Germans could not possibly carry on without them," he said. It was estimated that the oil field installations were 40 per cent destroyed in last summer's big raid on them by U. S. Liberators from the Middle East, but the Germans are said to have repaired most of that damage.

Tank Cars Explode These fields, Slessor said, are one of the most important Balkan targets and if they can be knocked out and be kept knocked out the effect on the outcome of the war may be very great, for they are Germany's big source of natural petroleum.

Liberators, which were the first to go over Ploesti yesterday, encountered intense flak and more than 125 German planes. The Fortresses arriving later met fewer Germans.

As the big bombers left, the fliers said, the rail yards were in flames and tank cars exploding.

British-Irish Phone Service Is Closed London, April 6 (AP)—Closing of public telephone service between Great Britain and all parts of Ireland to prevent leakage of military information to enemy agents was announced today by the postmaster general.

Public telegraph service will be maintained, subject to strict censorship.

The telephone ban follows the stoppage of travel between the two countries on the ground that neutral Eire might be used by Axis

Court Scores "Twin Beds"

Chicago, April 6 (AP)—Twin beds, says Judge Frank Donohue of Women's court, are an "unholy system" and they should be thrown out of American homes.

"The invention, innovation or introduction of twin beds into the marital boudoir has caused more discussion, distrust and disunity resulting in divorce than any other single factor," Judge Donohue said yesterday after assessing a $200 fine against a childless couple on charges of disorderly conduct.

"This unholy system has resulted in millions of childless homes and of multiplying divorce actions."

He said that the decline of the nation starts with the disintegration of the family and urged "government subsidies for the full use of a good old fashioned marital bed," and suggested legislation against twin beds.

WAGE INCREASE

Washington, April 6 (AP)—A daily wage increase of 66 cents to river boatmen employed by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. and the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. has been reaffirmed in an order by the War Labor Board.

American bombers now fly higher and stay at high altitudes longer because of a new chemical development which lengthens by about 50 times the high altitude life of carbon brushes in the planes' generators.

Blames Public For "Black Markets"

Philadelphia, April 6 (AP)—A "greedy public, with more money to spend than ever," is primarily responsible for black markets, a special grand jury said in a preliminary report to Federal Judge George A. Welsh.

The jurist had ordered the jury to investigate price violations and other sales illegalities.

"We sacrifice our boys and girls to the war forces, but we are not willing to sacrifice our appetites or desires on the home front to prevent pernicious black markets," the report said.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, April 6 (AP)—The hellbaloos Ralph Edwards created in radio circles when he began looking for an M. C. to do his truth or consequences after he goes into the service is ended. Veteran Harry von Zell gets the job, so say three solid pages of typed announcement. It took a month of auditions of 94 possibilities to do the picking at a cost, to quote Edwards, of $6,500. Von Zell has been on the air a decade or more as an M. C. announcer.

BLAST KILLS 3; 12 MISSING AT NAVAL DEPOT

Hastings, Nebr., April 6 (AP)—An explosion which authorities said killed three persons and left 12 missing rocked an area within a 50-mile radius of the Hastings Naval Ordnance depot early today. The Navy Department in Washington said 35 persons also were injured but none critically.

In Hastings, about 14 miles northwest of the plant, the explosion shook houses and broke windows in many buildings, said Mayor Roy Carter.

Ambulances were dispatched to the depot and all roads between the plant and Hastings were ordered kept open.

Naval officials in Washington said the explosion was confined to one unit of the plant, which is the largest in Nebraska, embracing 48,000 acres.

"The entire sky was lighted up—it was like an earthquake," said Ellis Price, a taxicab driver who was driving to the depot from Hastings.

Buildings Collapsed
Mayor Carter said that windows in several business establishments in the downtown district were broken or cracked and that houses throughout the city of 18,000 were shaken by the explosion.

Most serious damage outside the plant area apparently was suffered at Glenvil, a village of 285 population on the plant outskirts. Night Marshal Vert Bruns said business houses there were "practically collapsed."

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Decker, of Glenvil, said they were awakened by a small explosion and that when they went to the window a second and much more intense blast knocked them to their feet. They were cut by flying glass and brought to Hastings for treatment.

Aerial "Newsboys" Claim Biggest Routes

A U. S. Bomber Base, England, April 6 (AP)—American Airforce "newsboys," using Flying Fortresses to cover their aerial routes, claimed today the largest newspaper circulation in the world, with an average daily distribution of 2,500,000 propaganda newspapers and leaflets to their "customers" in occupied Europe and Germany.

The paper "bombs," carrying the truth about the war to the populations of Axis Europe, are preparing them for the coming invasion, according to Capt. Paul T. Travsky, 22, of Youngstown, Ohio, navigation officer in one of the airborne propaganda squadrons.

That they are getting results is evidenced by reports that furious Nazi leaders have decreed imprisonment or death for anyone found reading or discussing the leaflets.

Police Help Sailor Win $10 Bet With Girl

Philadelphia, April 6 (AP)—A police car clearing his way, Aviation Machinist's Mate 2-c Joseph A. Charles ran down busy Broad street from Olney avenue to city hall—6.2 miles—last night to collect a $10 bet from his girl friend.

The girl, Miss Betty Curtis, had said she'd never heard of a seafaring man who could really run on dry land, and another Navy man, Mickey Tufarella, of New York, saying Charles certainly wasn't the sailor who could, had put up $50.

Charles pledged the $50 to the Red Cross, the $10 to Navy Relief, got a police permit and a police escort, and made the run as a charity event. A shipmate, Joseph Karako, of Duquesne, Pa., jogged along just for fun. Charles was all smiles as he pulled up at city hall, hardly puffing, but his grin faded as he searched the waiting crowd.

Betty, he noted, wasn't there.

There were 30 senators in the first Congress of the U. S.

Critical Need For Truckers Is Cited

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Edward Cogolin, manager of the Pennsylvania motor truck association, says "a transportation breakdown is imminent" unless relief is granted the trucking industry in the form of occupational deferments for key men.

He made the statement yesterday in urging motor carriers to advise the office of defense transportation at once how many irreplaceable employees they have between the ages of 22 and 26.

He explained district ODT offices now are making a survey to determine how many men between 22 and 26 are employed as dispatchers, shop foremen, operations managers, traffic managers, safety engineers, maintenance superintendents, terminal superintendents and office managers in connection with Selective Service orders that all physically fit men under 26 be called for pre-induction physical examinations.

15th Air Force Downs 116 Planes

Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 6 (AP)—U. S. 15th Air Force airmen shot down 116 enemy planes Sunday, all but one of them during an attack on aircraft plants at Steyr, in old Austria.

Victories were credited to Sgt. Joseph L. Kurill, Whitney, Pa., Liberator gunner; and Sgt. John Gilbert, Montoursville, Pa.; Sgt. Warren W. Sheff, Lebanon, Pa., and Sgt. Clifford P. Foulke, Allentown, Pa., all Fortress gunners.

URGE AIRPORT PROJECTS FOR POST-WAR ERA

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Development of new airports, schools and recreational facilities as local post-war projects was suggested Wednesday at the second-day sessions of a municipal post-war planning institute sponsored by the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs.

Francis A. Pitkin, state planning board director, led a discussion by commonwealth officials of public works programs suitable for municipalities.

The institute, the second held in Pennsylvania, was originally planned for officials of 12 counties in the Harrisburg area but more than 100 city and county officials from points as far distant as Lackawanna and Washington counties attended.

A similar conference will be held later at Pittsburgh.

Wednesday's Speakers
Included on the institute program today were talks by Lt. Col. William L. Anderson, executive director of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission; John W. Stoker, chief of the division of city planning, Department of Internal Affairs; Hubert C. Eicher, chief of division of school plant, Department of Public Instruction; H. E. Moses, chief engineer, Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, Department of Health, and Charles E. Ryder, chief engineer, Water and Power Resources Board. Norman A. Peil, Northampton county commissioner; Ellwood J.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, April 6 (AP)—The hullabaloo Ralph Edwards created in radio circles when he began looking for an M. C. to do his truth or consequences after he goes into the service is ended. Veteran Harry von Zell gets the job, so say three solid pages of typed announcement.

It took a month of auditions of 94 possibilities to do the picking at a cost, to quote Edwards, of $6,500. Von Zell has been on the air a decade or more as an M. C. announcer.

BLAST KILLS 3; 12 MISSING AT NAVAL DEPOT

Hastings, Nebr., April 6 (AP)—An explosion which authorities said killed three persons and left 12 missing rocked an area within a 50-mile radius of the Hastings Naval Ordnance depot early today. The Navy Department in Washington said 35 persons also were injured but none critically.

In Hastings, about 14 miles northwest of the plant, the explosion shook houses and broke windows in many buildings, said Mayor Roy Carter.

Ambulances were dispatched to the depot and all roads between the plant and Hastings were ordered kept open.

Naval officials in Washington said the explosion was confined to one unit of the plant, which is the largest in Nebraska, embracing 48,000 acres.

"The entire sky was lighted up—it was like an earthquake," said Ellis Price, a taxicab driver who was driving to the depot from Hastings.

Buildings Collapsed
Mayor Carter said that windows in several business establishments in the downtown district were broken or cracked and that houses throughout the city of 18,000 were shaken by the explosion.

Most serious damage outside the plant area apparently was suffered at Glenvil, a village of 285 population on the plant outskirts. Night Marshal W. Brunns said business houses there were "practically collapsed."

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Decker, of Glenvil, said they were awakened by a small explosion and that when they went to the window a second and much more intense blast knocked them to their feet. They were cut by flying glass and brought to Hastings for treatment.

Aerial "Newsboys" Claim Biggest Routes

A U. S. Bomber Base, England, April 6 (AP)—American Air Force "newsboys," using Flying Fortresses to cover their aerial routes, claimed today the largest newspaper circulation in the world, with an average daily distribution of 2,500,000 propaganda newspapers and leaflets to their "customers" in occupied Europe and Germany.

The paper "bombs," carrying the truth about the war to the populations of Axis Europe, are preparing them for the coming invasion, according to Capt. Paul T. Travsky, 22, of Youngstown, Ohio, navigation officer in one of the airborne propaganda squadrons.

That they are getting results is evidenced by reports that furious Nazi leaders have decreed imprisonment or death for anyone found reading or discussing the leaflets.

Police Help Sailor Win $10 Bet With Girl

Philadelphia, April 6 (AP)—A police car clearing his way, Aviation Machinist's Mate 2-c Joseph A. Charles ran down busy Broad street from Olney avenue to city hall—6.2 miles—last night to collect a $10 bet from his girl friend.

The girl, Miss Betty Curtis, had said she'd never heard of a seafaring man who could really run on dry land, and another Navy man, Mickey Tufarella, of New York, saying Charles certainly wasn't the sailor who could, had put up $50.

Charles pledged the $50 to the Red Cross, the $10 to Navy Relief, got a police permit and a police escort, and made the run as a charity event. A shipmate, Joseph Karako, of Duquesne, Pa., jogged along just for fun. Charles was all smiles as he pulled up at city hall, hardly puffing, but his grin faded as he searched the waiting crowd.

Betty, he noted, wasn't there.

There were 30 senators in the first Congress of the U. S.

Critical Need For Truckers Is Cited

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Edward Cogolin, manager of the Pennsylvania motor truck association, says "a transportation breakdown is imminent" unless relief is granted the trucking industry in the form of occupational deferments for key men.

He made the statement yesterday in urging motor carriers to advise the office of defense transportation at once how many irreplaceable employees they have between the ages of 22 and 26.

He explained district ODT offices now are making a survey to determine how many men between 22 and 26 are employed as dispatchers, shop foremen, operations managers, traffic managers, safety engineers, maintenance superintendents, terminal superintendents and office managers in connection with Selective Service orders that all physically fit men under 26 be called for pre-induction physical examinations.

Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 6 (AP)—U. S. 15th Air Force airmen shot down 116 enemy planes Sunday, all but one of them during an attack on aircraft plants at Steyr, in old Austria.

URGE AIRPORT PROJECTS FOR POST-WAR ERA

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Development of new airports, schools and recreational facilities as local post-war projects was suggested Wednesday at the second-day sessions of a municipal post-war planning institute sponsored by the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs.

Francis A. Pitkin, state planning board director, led a discussion by commonwealth officials of public works programs suitable for municipalities.

The institute, the second held in Pennsylvania, was originally planned for officials of 12 counties in the Harrisburg area but more than 100 city and county officials from points as far distant as Lackawanna and Washington counties attended.

A similar conference will be held later at Pittsburgh.

Wednesday's Speakers

Included on the institute program today were talks by Lt. Col. William L. Anderson, executive director of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission; John W. Stoker, chief of the division of city planning, Department of Internal Affairs; Hubert C. Elcher, chief of division of school plant, Department of Public Instruction; H. E. Moses, chief engineer, Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, Department of Health, and Charles E. Ryder, chief engineer, Water and Power Resources Board.

Norman A. Peil, Northampton county commissioner; Ellwood J.

Turner, Association of Pennsylvania Authorities Counsel, and Warren E. Lym, Harrisburg finance director, were on the program to discuss financing of municipal projects.

Secretary James A. Kell, of forests and waters, told the institute Tuesday night that jobs for 15,000 retraining service men will be made available in Pennsylvania's state forests under a post-war project that already has been prepared.

Cold, Wet Spring Delays Plowing On Farms; Adds Problem For Farmers

NEW HANDICAP
MAY DELAY ALL
SPRING CROPS

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers are facing a new problem in this efforts to step up food production for war needs—a cold, wet spring has held up plowing, and threatens to delay essential planting.

Mark Shulman, agricultural adjustment agency statistician, said that the ground has been so wet in most parts of the state that plowing has been impossible.

"With labor conditions already causing worry for the farmers this new handicap may affect all spring crops," asserted Shulman. "It is still possible to get the grain planted on time but it will now require plenty of hard work to catch up."

Cutting On Corn
Farmers throughout the state are planning to raise more oats than in 1943, as shown by an advance crop report, and here again Shulman explained that "it takes less labor to raise oats than corn, which may account for the increased acreage."

"While it is still not too late to plant oats, the continuous cold certainly is a handicap," concluded the AAA official.

New Regulations
New regulations to aid in the fight against Bangs disease have been approved by Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture, to become effective on May 1.

The principal change is that no animals may be sold from an infected herd until the entire herd has had two consecutive negative blood tests within a period of from 30 to 90 days.

"Experience has shown," said Horst, "that a single infected animal coming into a herd free of Bangs disease can affect the entire herd in a short time."

Poultry Shortage Seen
Chester Leet, commissioner of Wayne county, warned farmers throughout Pennsylvania that a poultry shortage will result if steps are not taken to maintain present flocks.

"With the high cost of feed many farmers are selling off their chickens rather than take a loss," explained Leet. "This is particularly true along the upper tier where it is hard to raise your own feed."

Leet attributes the cutting of flocks to the present low prices for eggs, but predicts that when hens get scarce the egg market will swing upward.

4-H Clubs Help
Dairy farmers, faced with an acute labor shortage, are turning to the 4-H clubs for help in maintaining herds throughout the state. The farm boys and girls enrolled in vocational agricultural courses are being encouraged by the various county Holstein associations to build up herds of purebred dairy cattle this year.

A committee has been appointed by the Pennsylvania Holstein association to promote the breeding of

POINTS NEEDS
FOR NEW POLICY
ON BUSINESS TAX

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Warren C. Bulette, president of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, said today "a change in our post-war tax policy" is necessary if business is to provide adequate employment after the war.

In a prepared address at the 27th annual one-day meeting of the state C. of C., Bulette asserted "we must have an economic environment favorable to the establishment of new enterprises and the expansion of existing business."

"It must be understood by all our people that without incentive free enterprise dies," he added. "One of the serious threats to that incentive has been onerous taxation. We see now signs indicating this danger is recognized by our lawmakers, but we cannot relax our efforts."

Johnston To Speak

Bulette declared an "equally serious threat is that of bureaucratic domination of American life." On state taxation, the Chamber president said the organization still advocates reduction of the commonwealth's capital stock and franchise tax from five to four mills, to bring an estimated saving of $14,000,000 biennially, and repeal of the one cent liquid fuels tax, to provide a saving of about $18,000,000 every two years.

Walter D. Fuller, president of the Curtis Publishing company and chairman of the Chamber's post-war committee, was on the program

DEADLINE NEAR
ON DECLARATION
OF 1944 INCOME

(Editor's note: This is the first of two columns dealing with declarations of estimated 1944 Federal Income Tax.)

By JAMES MARLOW and
GEORGE ZIELKE
Washington, April 6 (AP)—Here it comes again: The Federal income tax.

By April 15, about 15,000,000 of the 50,000,000 taxpayers must file declarations of estimated 1944 tax and pay the first installment on any amount of tax that isn't being taken out of wages and salaries.

This includes you if:

1. You expect to have 1944 income of more than $2,700 if single, or $3,500 for a married couple. Or—
2. You expect to have outside income (in addition to wages or salaries subject to withholding of taxes under pay-as-you-go) of more than $100 this year. Or—
Simple By Comparison

3. Your income isn't subject to withholding of taxes. (Exception: Farmers, who may wait until Dec. 15 to file—but if they wait, will have to pay the whole amount of tax at that time.)

The declaration forms probably will look simple to you in comparison with the 1943 return you filled out a month ago.

You estimate your 1944 income and how much (if anything) will be taken out of your pay for the tax during the year, then start paying the difference in quarterly installments. (If you had a refund coming on 1943, and elected to have it applied against 1944, you subtract it from the first payment.)

Automatic Deductions

If you use the short-form work sheet sent you by the tax collector, you need to do only one problem in decimals—the 3 per cent Victory tax. The regular tax can be found in a table of figures on the work sheet.

There's an alternate, long-form work sheet for use in estimating taxes on incomes over $10,000. This also may be used for detailed computation of taxes on smaller incomes.

In the short-form, the tax tables automatically provide for deductions of 8 per cent of your income.

Most Suitable Now

Last fall, use of the short-form left some taxpayers facing unexpectedly high payments in March. However, the short-form produces tax figures approximating those which will result if the present

"streamline" bill in Congress becomes law, as expected—with its automatic deductions of 10 per cent of income up to a maximum of $500.

For this reason, the short-form is particularly suitable now.

Note, though, that if the "streamliners" becomes law, childless couples will face a tax boost, and in that event may find it advisable to file an amended declaration.

That's one of the three means of protecting taxpayers against penalties for underestimating. The law requires "reasonable" estimates, which can be amended once each quarter, if desired, on or before June 15, September 15 or December 15.

Protections Given

The other two protections are:

1. No penalty is to be assessed if the estimate is based on last year's actual income (but at present rates and exemptions) and installments are paid on time.

Cold, Wet Spring Delays Plowing On Farms; Adds Problem For Farmers

NEW HANDICAP
MAY DELAY ALL
SPRING CROPS

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers are facing a new problem in this efforts to step up food production for war needs—a cold, wet spring has held up plowing, and threatens to delay essential planting.

Mark Shulman, agricultural adjustment agency statistician, said that the ground has been so wet in most parts of the state that plowing has been impossible.

"With labor conditions already causing worry for the farmers this new handicap may affect all spring crops," asserted Shulman. "It is still possible to get the grain planted on time but it will now require plenty of hard work to catch up."

Cutting On Corn
Farmers throughout the state are planning to raise more oats than in 1943, as shown by an advance crop report, and here again Shulman explained that "it takes less labor to raise oats than corn, which may account for the increased acreage."

"While it is still not too late to plant oats, the continuous cold certainly is a handicap," concluded the AAA official.

New Regulations
New regulations to aid in the fight against Bangs disease have been approved by Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture, to become effective on May 1.

The principal change is that no animals may be sold from an infected herd until the entire herd has had two consecutive negative blood tests within a period of from 30 to 90 days.

"Experience has shown," said Horst, "that a single infected animal coming into a herd free of Bangs disease can affect the entire herd in a short time."

Poultry Shortage Seen
Chester Leet, commissioner of Wayne county, warned farmers throughout Pennsylvania that a poultry shortage will result if steps are not taken to maintain present flocks.

"With the high cost of feed many farmers are selling off their chickens rather than take a loss," explained Leet. "This is particularly true along the upper tier where it is hard to raise your own feed."

Leet attributes the cutting of flocks to the present low prices for eggs, but predicts that when hens get scarce the egg market will swing upward.

4-H Clubs Help
Dairy farmers, faced with an acute labor shortage, are turning to the 4-H clubs for help in maintaining herds throughout the state. The farm boys and girls enrolled in vocational agricultural courses are being encouraged by the various county Holstein associations to build up herds of purebred dairy cattle this year.

A committee has been appointed by the Pennsylvania Holstein association to promote the breeding of

POINTS NEEDS
FOR NEW POLICY
ON BUSINESS TAX

Harrisburg, April 6 (AP)—Warren C. Bulette, president of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, said today "a change in our post-war tax policy" is necessary if business is to provide adequate employment after the war.

In a prepared address at the 27th annual one-day meeting of the state C. of C. Bulette asserted "we must have an economic environment favorable to the establishment of new enterprises and the expansion of existing business."

"It must be understood by all our people that without incentive free enterprise dies," he added. "One of the serious threats to that incentive has been onerous taxation. We see now signs indicating this danger is recognized by our lawmakers, but we cannot relax our efforts."

Johnston To Speak
Bulette declared an "equally serious threat is that of bureaucratic domination of American life."

On state taxation, the Chamber president said the organization still advocates reduction of the commonwealth's capital stock and franchise tax from five to four mills, to bring an estimated saving of $14,000,000 biennially, and repeal of the one cent liquid fuels tax, to provide a saving of about $18,000,000 every two years.

DEADLINE NEAR
ON DECLARATION
OF 1944 INCOME

(Editor's note: This is the first of two columns dealing with declarations of estimated 1944 Federal Income Tax.)

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, April 6 (AP)—Here it comes again: The Federal income tax.

By April 15, about 15,000,000 of the 50,000,000 taxpayers must file declarations of estimated 1944 tax and pay the first installment on any amount of tax that isn't being taken out of wages and salaries.

This includes you if:

1. You expect to have 1944 income of more than $2,700 if single, or $3,500 for a married couple. Or—
2. You expect to have outside income (in addition to wages or salaries subject to withholding of taxes under pay-as-you-go) of more than $100 this year. Or—

Simple By Comparison
3. Your income isn't subject to withholding of taxes. (Exception: Farmers, who may wait until Dec. 15 to file—but if they wait, will have to pay the whole amount of tax at that time.)

The declaration forms probably will look simple to you in comparison with the 1943 return you filled out a month ago.

You estimate your 1944 income and how much (if anything) will be taken out of your pay for the tax during the year, then start paying the difference in quarterly installments. (If you had a refund coming on 1943, and elected to have it applied against 1944, you subtract it from the first payment.)

Automatic Deductions

If you use the short-form work sheet sent you by the tax collector, you need to do only one problem in decimals—the 3 per cent Victory tax. The regular tax can be found in a table of figures on the work sheet.

There's an alternate, long-form work sheet for use in estimating taxes on incomes over $10,000. This also may be used for detailed computation of taxes on smaller incomes.

In the short-form, the tax tables automatically provide for deductions of 8 per cent of your income.

Most Suitable Now

Last fall, use of the short-form left some taxpayers facing unexpectedly high payments in March. However, the short-form produces tax figures approximating those which will result if the present

"streamline" bill in Congress becomes law, as expected—with its automatic deductions of 10 per cent of income up to a maximum of $500.

For this reason, the short-form is particularly suitable now.

Note, though, that if the "streamliners" becomes law, childless couples will face a tax boost, and in that event may find it advisable to file an amended declaration.

That's one of the three means of protecting taxpayers against penalties for underestimating. The law requires "reasonable" estimates, which can be amended once each quarter, if desired, on or before June 15, September 15 or December 15.

Protections Given

The other two protections are:

1. No penalty is to be assessed if the estimate is based on last year's actual income (but at present rates and exemptions) and installments are paid on time.
2. No penalty is to be assessed if you estimate that tax within 20 per-

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 16

Adrienne emerging in her bathrobe from Madame Dupont's small white tiled bath room, seated herself in front of the dressing table to survey her coiffure of gleaming hair arranged by the hairdresser in rows of curls on top of her head. The frock she was to wear for the occasion, a creation of saffron georgette lay spread out over the silk coverlet of Madame Dupont's bed. This occasion was the result of Von Ebert's invitation to attend the opera that evening.

Adrienne on receiving a formal note from Von Ebert delivered to the café by his chauffeur the day before, had decided to accept the invitation. Primarily, she was aware that through contacts of this kind, useful information might be obtained; secondly she did not think it advisable to antagonize him.

Knowing her uncle would disapprove of her associating with any Nazi officer, and had only counteracted her dining with Schafer because of the power he wielded and the urgency of the situation, she had made no mention to him of this invitation. She was obliged, however, to confide in Madame Dupont, with whom for the present she was to stay. Through this arrangement Adrienne's room in her uncle's flat was available for the use of either Raoul or Gabord, when either of them were detained by the printing until a late hour.

She had just slipped her evening gown on when her hostess entered the room.

"You look charming this evening," Madame Dupont declared. "What a pity Monsieur Raoul can't see you."

Noting that Adrienne's expression changed and her eyes became clouded, she regretted her impulsive remark.

"It does not matter," she added casually. "That will be for some future time. Now that we know he got away safely."

Adrienne fingered the fine platinum chain on her neck, to which her ring was attached, and her gaze fell on a slip of yellow paper on the dressing table. It was the message which had reached her a few days previously.

"Nothing matters now that I know he got through the Nazi net. Uncle Pierre says that 'le petit Capitaine' is a genius in arranging some way in which refugees can escape. Sometimes he contrives to have those whom he shelters picked up by a reconnaissance plane." She lowered her voice instinctively as if afraid that Gestapo ears might be listening.

"You can speak safely here," said Madame Dupont. "There is no telephone, and the walls of this apartment are well built. She broke off as the entrance bell rang.

An instant later she opened the door to confront Kaptain Von Ebert's chauffeur, who gave the Nazi salute, informing her in halting French that Herr Kaptain awaited Mademoiselle in the car below.

Enveloping Adrienne in her black velvet evening cloak, Madame Dupont surveyed her critically and approvingly, and patted her arm.

"Go along, but take care of yourself," she bent to kiss her.

From the moment Adrienne was assisted into the car by Von Ebert and he seated himself beside her, she had a presentiment of a complication having entered her life. The thought went through her mind that she could have contrived some excuse rather than have accepted an invitation to appear publicly in his company. She admitted to herself that he was a personable man, not undistinguished in appearance, and that his manners were above the average for a Nazi officer.

When he had pressed her arm in assisting her into the car, then gazing hard at her had sat in closer proximity than the allotted space rendered necessary, she was conscious of an element of danger in the atmosphere. She must keep her wits about her tonight and maintain a distance between this German and herself.

"Luck was with me tonight Mademoiselle, that you were able to accept my invitation," he remarked. "I hope you will approve of my choice of this opera. We are to hear Verdi's Aida."

"You could not have chosen better, Herr Kaptain. It is one of my favorites," she returned smiling.

"That is excellent, and it also shows that we have tastes in common."

She knew instantly by his tone that he was both pleased and gratified.

Silence fell between them broken by Adrienne's efforts to maintain the conversation, while the car passed from the Rue de Vaugirard, through the Boulevard St. Michel, in the Latin Quarter, west along the Boulevard St. Germain, then crossing from the south side of the Seine by means of the Quai d'Orsay, to the Place de la Concorde, and finally to the crowded well lighted Boulevard de Capucines.

He assisted her to alight when the car stopped in the vicinity of the Opera House, opposite which a line of cars was already drawn up.

When passing through the crowded foyer, Adrienne suddenly caught sight of a tall fair woman who looked familiar to her. At a second glance she recognized her as Frau Jean Lange. The latter accompanied by a Nazi officer, was at the moment conversing with another officer, who had just joined them.

As Adrienne and her escort passed, the officers saluted Von Ebert, who returned the salutes and bowed to Frau Jean Lange. She returned Adrienne's bow very distantly and shot an appraising glance at her which was vaguely disturbing.

The incident passed. The orchestra had commenced to play the overture as they were ushered into their seats in the front of the well filled orchestra chairs.

When the curtain rose on the first act of the opera, Adrienne, who enjoyed good music and the vocal performance of the principals. For the moment she even forgot the presence of Von Ebert at her side, the dangers menacing herself and those associated with her.

MINIMUM WAGE SEEN IN BRITAIN

London, April 6 (AP) — A drastic revision of the British coal industry with a miners' charter guaranteeing a minimum wage based on a 37½ hour week the year round was proposed by a Tory Reform Committee Tuesday's night as a means of preventing strikes such as the present one which has sharply affected war production.

The committee, composed of 50 conservative members of parliament, also proposed a sweeping program of mandatory amalgamations which would cut the existing 1,000 mining undertakings to between 40 and 60.

The program, the committee said, would allow improved mechanization of the coal industry—a development which, it declared, would enable British mines to match the higher output of American mines.

The committee declared that in America 600,000 miners produce 500,000,000 tons of coal annually compared to 200,000,000 tons produced annually by Britain's 700,000 miners.

The current strike in Yorkshire, meanwhile, showed signs of spreading into virtually every other important mining area in the country.

METHANE GOOD SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE

Cleveland, April 6 (AP) — The United States has waiting around the corner, almost ready-made, a substitute for gasoline potentially twice as plentiful annually as all the gasoline used in America in 1941.

The substitute is methane, or marsh gas, and its sources are natural gas, petroleum, coal and sewage. Methane is a byproduct of refining oil, of coal processing and sewage disposal and can be made easily from natural gas.

there will still remain from other sources a large volume of methane gas.

There are half a dozen gases good for running autos, and 25,000 American trucks and buses, mostly on the Pacific coast, are already using one or another.

There are, Dr. Egloff said, about 140,000 vehicles running on methane gas in Europe, largely in Germany.

Many Uses

Methane gas would reduce cost of lubrication and repairs because crankcase oil is not diluted, and there is practically no carbon deposit, Dr. Egloff stated.

Methane also could be used to run railroad locomotives, and at the same time to heat, air-condition, refrigerate and furnish cooking on the

In Germany this gas has been sold for the equivalent of 41 cents a gallon for gasoline, in England for 50 cents.

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 16

Adrienne emerging in her bathrobe from Madame Dupont's small white tiled bath room, seated herself in front of the dressing table to survey her coiffure of gleaming hair arranged by the hairdresser in rows of curls on top of her head. The frock she was to wear for the occasion, a creation of saffron georgette lay spread out over the silk coverlet of Madame Dupont's bed. This occasion was the result of Von Egert's invitation to attend the opera that evening.

Adrienne on receiving a formal note from Von Egert delivered to the café by his chauffeur the day before, had decided to accept the invitation. Primarily, she was aware that through contacts of this kind, useful information might be obtained; secondly she did not think it advisable to antagonize him.

Knowing her uncle would disapprove of her associating with any Nazi officer, and had only counterbalanced her dining with Schafer because of the power he wielded and the urgency of the situation, she had made no mention to him of this invitation. She was obliged, however, to confide in Madame Dupont, with whom for the present she was to stay. Through this arrangement Adrienne's room in her uncle's flat was available for the use of either Raoul or Gabord, when either of them were detained by the printing until a late hour.

She had just slipped her evening gown on when her hostess entered the room.

"You look charming this evening," Madame Dupont declared. "What a pity Monsieur Parrel can't see you." Noting that Adrienne's expression changed and her eyes became clouded, she regretted her impulsive remark.

"It does not matter," she added casually. "That will be for some future time. Now that we know he got away safely."

Adrienne fingered the fine platinum chain on her neck, to which her ring was attached, and her gaze fell on a slip of yellow paper on the dressing table. It was the message which had reached her a few days previously.

"Nothing matters now that I know he got through the Nazi net. Uncle Pierre says that 'le petit Capitaine' is a genius in arranging some way in which refugees can escape. Sometimes he contrives to have those whom he shelters picked up by a reconnaissance plane." She lowered her voice instinctively as if afraid that Gestapo ears might be listening.

"You can speak safely here," said Madame Dupont. "There is no dictaphone, and the walls of this apartment are well built. She broke off as the entrance bell rang.

An instant later she opened the door to confront Captain Von Egert's chauffeur, who gave the Nazi salute, informing her in halting French that Herr Kapitän awaited Mademoiselle in the car below.

Enveloping Adrienne in her black velvet evening cloak, Madame Dupont surveyed her critically and approvingly, and patted her arm.

"Go along, but take care of yourself." She bent to kiss her.

From the moment Adrienne was assisted into the car by Von Egert, and he seated himself beside her, she had a presentiment of a complication having entered her life. The thought went through her mind that she could have contrived some excuse rather than have accepted an invitation to appear publicly in his company. She admitted to herself that he was a personable man, not undistinguished in appearance, and that his manners were above the average for a Nazi officer.

When he had pressed her arm in assisting her into the car, then gazing hard at her had sat in closer proximity than the allotted space rendered necessary, she was conscious of an element of danger in the atmosphere. She must keep her wits about her tonight and maintain a distance between this German and herself.

"Luck was with me tonight Mademoiselle, that you were able to accept my invitation," he remarked. "I hope you will approve of my choice of this opera. We are to hear Verdi's Aida."

"You could not have chosen better, Herr Kapitän. It is one of my favorites," she returned smiling.

"That is excellent, and it also shows that we have tastes in common."

She knew instantly by his tone that he was both pleased and gratified.

Silence fell between them broken by Adrienne's efforts to maintain the conversation, while the car passed from the Rue de Vaugirard, through the Boulevard St. Michel, in the Latin Quarter, west along the Boulevard St. Germain, then crossing from the south side of the Seine by means of the Quai d'Orsay, to the Place de la Concorde, and finally to the crowded well lighted Boulevard de Capucines.

He assisted her to alight when the car stopped in the vicinity of the Opera House, opposite which a line of cars was already drawn up.

When passing through the crowded foyer, Adrienne suddenly caught sight of a tall fair woman who looked familiar to her. At a second glance she recognized her as Fraulein Lange. The latter accompanied by a Nazi officer, was at the moment conversing with another officer, who had just joined them.

As Adrienne and her escort passed, the officers saluted Von Egert, who returned the salutes and bowed to Fraulein Lange. She returned Adrienne's bow very distantly and shot an appraising glance at her which was vaguely disturbing.

The incident passed. The orchestra had commenced to play the overture as they were ushered into their

MINIMUM WAGE SEEN IN BRITAIN

London, April 6 (AP) — A drastic revision of the British coal industry with a miners' charter guaranteeing a minimum wage based on a 37½ hour week the year round was proposed by a Tory Reform Committee Tuesday's night as a means of preventing strikes such as the present one which has sharply affected war production.

The committee, composed of 50 conservative members of parliament, also proposed a sweeping program seats in the front of the well filled orchestra chairs.

When the curtain rose on the first act of the opera, Adrienne, who enjoyed good music was oblivious to all save the music and the vocal performance of the principals. For the moment she even forgot the presence of Von Egert at her side, the dangers menacing herself and those associated with her.

of mandatory amalgamations which would cut the existing 1,000 mining undertakings to between 40 and 60.

The program, the committee said, would allow improved mechanization of the coal industry—a development which, it declared, would enable British mines to match the higher output of American mines.

The committee declared that in America 600,000 miners produce 500,000,000 tons of coal annually compared to 200,000,000 tons produced annually by Britain's 700,000 miners.

The current strike in Yorkshire, meanwhile, showed signs of spreading to virtually every other important mining area in the country.

PIONEER EXPIRES

Butler, Pa., April 6 (AP)—Everett Forsythe, 82, who erected the first telephone line in Butler in 1894, died yesterday at Memorial hospital. He also helped organize the People's Telephone company in 1895.

POLICEMAN KILLED

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—Police reported George Mattocks, 67, of Mercer, R. D. 1, was killed yesterday when struck by a street car.

METHANE GOOD SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE

Cleveland, April 6 (AP) — The United States has waiting around the corner, almost ready-made, a substitute for gasoline potentially twice as plentiful annually as all the gasoline used in America in 1941.

The substitute is methane, or marsh gas, and its sources are natural gas, petroleum, coal and sewage. Methane is a byproduct of refining oil, of coal processing and sewage disposal and can be made easily from natural gas.

In a report to the American Chemical society Wednesday, Dr. Gustav Egloff and Mary Alexander of Universal Oil Products company, Chicago, declared that methane can readily be prepared to serve as a gasoline substitute.

Already Using Substitutes
Even if petroleum should dwindle

there will still remain from other sources a large volume of methane gas.

There are half a dozen gases good for running autos, and 25,000 American trucks and buses, mostly on the Pacific coast, are already using one or another.

There are, Dr. Egloff said, about 140,000 vehicles running on methane gas in Europe, largely in Germany.

Many Uses

Methane gas would reduce cost of lubrication and repairs because crankcase oil is not diluted, and there is practically no carbon deposit, Dr. Egloff stated.

Methane also could be used to run railroad locomotives, and at the same time to heat, air-condition, refrigerate and furnish cooking on the
